A Place for Creative Collaboration

Welcome to Hussian College, the first school of its kind created with a motion picture studio; developed with Hollywood executives, directors, screenwriters, agents, casting directors, producers, actors, dancers, and other professionals focused on the art and business of storytelling in the twenty-first century.

It's a thrilling time to pursue a career in media and entertainment because the future of content distribution is a wide-open playing field. Even the biggest industry players of past decades are carefully navigating their future in the digital era, relying on young talent to lead the way. The playbook for success has changed in entertainment and we want our students trained to win. Virtual reality, augmented reality, live streaming, mobile devices, and social media platforms are revolutionizing content consumption. Hussian College students are trained to embrace this and be brave entrepreneurs, develop relevant skills, tell cogent stories, and create stunning original content in the face of this opportunity.

Our campus is situated on a working studio lot at LA Center Studios, where TV, digital, and feature film production is a standard part of the daily experience. In this environment, our students are inspired to excellence under the mentorship of working professionals.

Our students are tasked with creating a steady flow of original content while applying best-production practices throughout our project-based curriculum. Cross-disciplinary collaboration is a unique feature of our education, and the source of stunning inspiration and high production-values in our work.

Choosing the right school is not easy. You are invited to visit us in Los Angeles to experience our campus to meet our dedicated staff and faculty. We are here to help you and to answer your questions.

Mission

- Be an employer of choice.
- Inspire students to be unrelenting in the pursuit of their goals.

Values

The core values of Hussian College, Inc. are:

- Selflessness
- Dedication
- Responsibility
- Excellence
- Innovation
- Integrity

Overview

Hussian College prepares students for employment opportunities in the media and entertainment industry. Hussian College's intensive project-based curriculum was designed in collaboration with a major Hollywood Studio to nimbly address the needs of the industry today. Hussian College offers Bachelor of Fine Arts (BFA) degrees in Acting, Art, Commercial Dance, Contemporary Musical Theatre + Film, Film + Digital Content and a Bachelor of Arts (BA) degree in Entrepreneurship.

Unlike traditional college settings, the Hussian College collaborative, conservatory training environment is immersed in a professional industry setting. The educational experience is rooted in collaboration, craft, story and innovation to unleash the imagination and bring creative ideas to fruition under professional mentorship and guidance. Hussian College offers filmmakers, performers, and entrepreneurs' unique opportunities to hone their craft and create their own opportunities. Our holistic education model is designed to take projects from idea to final delivery, and aspiring artists and entrepreneurs from students to working professionals in a number of dynamic creative fields.

Philosophy

Our tag line, Hussian College In Studio, describes our campus on a working studio lot in the heart of today's entertainment industry. It also evokes the timeless tradition of artisanal learning in which the studio described any place devoted to craftsmanship, a place where skilled masters worked side-by-side with apprentices, mentoring them on the trade and the tools of their craft. This model of studio-based education is designed for industry immersion and alignment with employment opportunities.

Hussian College was created to equip the next generation of artists, entrepreneurs and storytellers with the creative skills required to succeed in the media and entertainment industry today. Hussian College reinvents school from the bottom-up with cross-disciplinary collaboration, storytelling, and innovation as its core DNA. In an era driven by the power of new ideas, we believe that creativity can and must be taught as the core competency of our disrupted age. Our studio-based model of education, at once old-world and next-generation, places creativity and collaboration at the center of our curriculum. Our studio-lot campus provides for hands-on, experiential learning in a professional environment. Small class sizes make space for focused creative practice and lively discussion. Master teachers, who are also working professionals, encourage organic mentorship, skills mastery, confidence building, network building, and practical intelligence. Dynamic engagement with industry keeps curriculum current and fosters employment opportunities upon graduation.

Empathetic and engaged Program Coordinators support students with balanced approaches to Hussian College's rigorous training. Project-based learning and real-world problem-solving builds resourcefulness and grit. A programmatic commitment to original content creation empowers graduates with a curated portfolio of creative work designed to advance their unique goals and ambitions. An immersive focus on mythology and storytelling awakens students, not just to the stories worth telling, but how to live life within their own Hero's Journey. While our programs of study are intensive and craft-specific, they are also well-rounded and multidisciplinary. Our Collaboration Labs—project-based learning experiences creating original content with students from other disciplines—are a signature element of our studio-model curriculum. Our General Education program spurs passionate inquiry and strengthens critical reasoning through courses in Story, Writing Process, Psychology, Philosophy, Anthropology, American Cinema, Oral Communication, Statistics, Physics, and Creative Practice. And because today's artists and storytellers must also be entrepreneurs, all students take Innovation & Entrepreneurship and Professional Practice to prepare them for employment following graduation.

Our core values are the fundamental beliefs of our organization which are rooted in collaboration and innovation, and designed to unleash the imagination under thoughtfully guided mentorship. We celebrate entrepreneurial spirit, brave storytelling and the unrelenting desire to succeed. Through our Team-and-Mentor approach, our educational experience does not stop at mastery of the craft—but begins there.

Our History

Hussian College is the first and only school of its kind created in partnership with a major Hollywood studio. The campus opened its doors in 2014 as an accredited branch campus of Hussian College, which was founded in 1946. Hussian's endeavor to create a strategically beneficial relationship in the entertainment industry yielded the Hussian College, a twenty-first century innovation in higher education poised to lead the next generation of artists and content entrepreneurs.

Adjunct Faculty

Hussian College has an outstanding adjunct faculty of over one hundred gifted educators who balance love of teaching with active professional practice and whose qualifications meet or exceed the credentialing standards established by our accrediting body, the Association of Careers Schools and Colleges (ACCSC).

Undergraduate Programs

BFA in Acting

Our Acting Program combines immersive training in acting for film and television with an exclusive business and general education core developed in cooperation with our industry partners. Students earn a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree over the course of eight semesters at our unique studio lot campus while preparing for success in the professional entertainment industry. Acting students take comprehensive sequences in acting, voice and speech, movement, camera technique, stage combat, audition technique and business. Additionally, students compliment their major through a series of electives designed to support an expanded creative life within and beyond performance. The Acting faculty is comprised of industry professionals and leaders who are passionate about craft, discipline, professionalism, life balance, and artistic excellence.

BFA in Commercial Dance

The commercial dance program at Hussian College is a comprehensive, integrated approach to the professional dance world for stage, film, and television opportunities. Dance styles and master classes with the industry's top choreographers cover hip hop, ballet, jazz funk, world cultural dance, tap, contemporary, modern, and more. Hussian College's exclusive commercial dance course sequence includes training in aerial silks, choreography, injury prevention, digital content creation, dance cinematography, iconic choreographers, and dance history.

BFA in Contemporary Musical Theatre & Film

Musical theatre is one of the most competitive and rapidly developing industries in the performing arts. Hussian College's Contemporary Musical Theatre + Film program paves an entrepreneurial path to success by combining comprehensive training in acting, voice, musicianship, dance, performance, and entertainment industry practices. Unique among musical theater training programs, our students train for both live theater and for the emerging opportunities for musical theater artists in film and television, graduating with a substantial digital portfolio of creative work.

BA in Entrepreneurship

The Bachelor of Arts in Entrepreneurship is an intensive four-year program that combines core entrepreneurship training with exclusive business and general education courses to offer an innovative curriculum designed by industry experts, education leaders, and entertainment entrepreneurs. All students of this program take courses in entrepreneurship, business law, finance, intellectual property, advertising, promotion, marketing, management, and innovation leading to capstone projects that will take students beyond the classroom to launching new ventures under mentorship of faculty and industry experts. To prepare for the unique demands of today's most dynamic content industries, Entrepreneurship students may choose one of four concentrations of study: Entertainment Media, Casting & Talent Management, Sports Media & Marketing, and Music Business.

BFA in Film & Digital Content

The Film + Digital Content program at Hussian College features an immersive, project-based curriculum taught by industry professionals on an active studio lot. Student filmmakers practice and develop their unique voices while concurrently studying established artists, past and present, in curated screening series and master classes. After building a foundation of core skills during the first two years, the curriculum opens up to allow for a variety of electives that support a path-to-industry focus on directing, screenwriting, producing, documentary, cinematography, or editing. Unique features of the program include an advanced directing project during the second year of the program, the opportunity to compete for funded, collaborative projects in year three, and a thesis-level capstone project in year four, which can be completed in the student's area of focus.

Graduate Programs

Master of Science in UX Design

This full-time, two-year program focuses on the interdisciplinary components that are central to UX (User-Experience) Design. Each 16-week semester includes two graduate-level classes. The program consists of a total of 6 semesters; in total the two-year program includes twelve classes.

While the degree is a UX degree, UI (User-Interface) study is a central component. With UI, students concentrate on the look and feel, presentation and interactivity of a product. In the first year, students learn the concepts and methods of interaction design and usability testing, starting with an understanding of people and the environments that drive their needs, goals and experiences. In the second year, students create and critique web and mobile apps using the UX methodology.

The terms UI and UX can be confusing, seemingly synonymous, but they definitely apply to different approaches and responsibilities during and throughout the creation phase of the web and mobile app. UX designers initially propose solutions to complex design problems. Then the responsibility for the interface usually falls to UI designers. Yet, UX designers retain responsibility for the entire experience and product. Specifically, UI designers create solutions that involve interactive designs, icons, colors, text, and other elements that solve problems. But those solutions are only part of the entire process. UX designers expand the work of UI designers by examining additional elements such as marketing, copy, speed, functional performance, color scheme, personality, customer support, set expectations, financial approach, analytics, visualization... well, you get the idea.

With an ever increasing changing and competitive digital landscape, the ability to quickly yet effectively understand the needs of users and to translate those needs into usable and engaging features and commercial streams has never been as important.

Course work during the first year emphasizes the importance of color theory, hierarchy, and balance, thinking like a designer, and mastering the tools of UI (Adobe's Creative Suite including Photoshop, Illustrator, Dreamweaver and Bohemian Coding's Sketch). In the first year, students apply themselves to presenting, reflecting, and critiquing products through case studies and project creation in cohort teams. In addition, the latest essential frontend (HTML5, CSS3, and JavaScript) and backend (PHP and Python) languages are reviewed.

Course work during the second year emphasizes prototyping web and mobile app creation so that students develop deeper team and business skills by continuing the use of UI tools along with advanced UX software (Balsamiq's Mockups and InVision's prototyping, collaboration and workflow platform). In the second year, students apply UI methods with UX concepts to shape their final thesis projects. UX designers are specialists in communicating design interfaces and business analytics.

Location and Facilities

All classes are held at:

HUSSIAN COLLEGE

Los Angeles Center Studios
1201 W. 5TH Street, Suite F-10
Los Angeles, CA 90017

The Hussian College campus is operated at Los Angeles Center Studios (LACS). Located in vibrant downtown Los Angeles. LACS is a 20-acre, full-service studio for TV, film and commercials and has been home to Hollywood productions like Scandal, Mad Men, The Voice, It's Always Sunny in Philadelphia, Jungle Book, Inception and Anchorman. This unique facility is an ideal learning environment for our studio-based model of education. For students preparing for careers in content industries, the experiential learning advantage of training at an active production facility cannot be overstated. Students have access to the same camera-ready sets that professionals use at LACS including a café, jail, office, morgue, apartment, police station, outdoor cityscapes and more.

Hussian College has built upon the professional environment and unique filming locations at LACS to create a vibrant multi-disciplinary education center perfectly aligned with our studio learning model. Our educational facilities include AV-equipped classrooms, camera-ready dance studios, rehearsal rooms, recording studio, audio post facility, advanced production lab featuring live stream switching, RS1 Production Facility, M40 Lab, school library, AVID-equipped editing lab, computer labs with Adobe Creative Cloud, equipment room supporting all levels of production, Beaudry Screening Room, Flix Cafe, student lounges, quiet work areas, and collaboration spaces. Hussian College removes the barriers to creative work by providing young artists with the facilities, equipment, and resources they need to produce a steady flow of high quality, original content.

Library & Learning Resources

The Hussian College Library provides students with a curated collection of program-specific resources including all Hussian College required or recommended textbooks, books, e-books, audio books, films, screenplays, video content, and audio recordings. Hussian College students also have online access to the LIRN collection which includes millions of peer-reviewed, full-text journal, magazine, and newspaper articles as well as e-books, podcasts and Audio/Video resources from Gale Cengage, ProQuest, EBSCO, eLibrary, Books24x7 and more.

In addition to these campus library resources, students have easy access to the Los Angeles Public Library's Central Library. A seven-minute walk from campus, this historic Los Angeles landmark has over 6 million books, audiobooks, periodicals, DVDs and CDs available to check out. Librarians are available to help students pursue research and complete homework using the library's vast reference collection that includes up-to-date periodicals, scholarly journals, dictionaries, encyclopedias, statistical resources and more. There are also e-books, e-audiobooks, e-videos, mp3 downloads and courseware that can be accessed online at www.lapl.org.

Hussian College's location in Los Angeles also gives our students access to the Motion Picture Academy's Margaret Herrick Library, a world center for film scholarship and research. Professional librarians are on staff to assist faculty and students making use of the library's vast library collection and online resources that include primary resources like rare and original screenplays dating back to the birth of cinema, archival film prints, still images, oral histories, and more.

Student Services

Academic Advising

Academic advising may be arranged through Program Coordinators - engaged, discipline-specific support for students needing consultation regarding academic concerns, course selection, evaluation of student work and progress, and discussion of professional goals and career objectives.

Personal Advising

Students that may be experiencing personal difficulties too specialized to handle in school will be advised of appropriate referrals to professional agencies within the community. Students in need of this information or to discuss such a situation should make an appointment with their Program Coordinator. The confidentiality of the students will be respected.

Placement Assistance/Career Services

Employment and career planning are an important part of the curriculum at Hussian College. Through the Career Services Department, Hussian College maintains active placement assistance for both internship and employment. However, as with any other institution, the college cannot guarantee job placement. The success of placement will depend, to a great extent, on the student initiative and creative abilities shown in their portfolios. Every reasonable effort will be made to assist students in portfolio preparation and pursuing employment.

Counseling Service

For Personal Counseling, which may be too specialized for the College and other resources, the College provides students with access to an outside private counseling service ("PCS"). The PCS may be able to provide students with a variety of assistance, which may include personal counseling, housing, childcare, financial matters, legal assistance, transportation, and health care. The Program Coordinator should be contacted for appropriate referrals to a qualified PCS.

Senior Showcase

Graduating seniors present their work in a professional setting representing both their own talent and the educational value of the college. The annual showcases attract industry professionals, potential employers, and artist representatives. Many seniors have been offered employment and representation opportunities based on their showcase presentations.

Writing Lab

The Writing Lab is open to all students who want to cultivate their craft as storytellers, develop their scholarship, or work on job-related materials, such as cover letters, resumes and professional emails.

Internships

Hussian College encourages students to work in the industry and gain practical experience whenever possible without conflicting with their academic studies by participating in an internship. Program Coordinators foster student connections with the employment community and help to connect interested students with internship opportunities aligned with interests and goals.

National Honor Society

Students in their senior year who have a cumulative grade point average of 3.5 or higher will be nominated to membership in Alpha Beta Kappa, a National Honor Society that recognizes outstanding achievement in academic and career education.

Student Housing

Hussian College does not assume responsibility for student housing, does not have dormitory facilities under its control, and does not offer student housing assistance other than to provide a brochure of local housing.

Health Insurance

Hussian College highly recommends that undergraduate students have a comprehensive health insurance plan that meets healthcare reform standards while attending.

Emergencies

In the event of a federal, state, or local emergency or event that in the reasonable discretion of Hussian College presents a risk to the health, safety or general welfare of Hussian College's students, faculty or staff (in all such cases a "Hazardous Event") whether or not an emergency declaration or other governmental recognition of the Hazardous Event has been issued, Hussian College may make adjustments to affected programs in relation to the length or commencement date of any program term, course schedules, location of instructional delivery and/or delivery modality (e.g. in-person, online distance education, etc.), or other changes (collectively, "Program Changes") to the extent the program as modified continues to meet the established program objectives, applicable law, regulation, and government and accrediting agency policy and standards as modified by any agency policies or guidance specifically related or in response to the Hazardous Event. Hussian College will limit the duration of the Program Changes resulting from a Hazardous Event that materially modify the nature and scope of a program when, in Hussian College's reasonable discretion, the risk posed by the Hazardous Event has sufficiently subsided.

STUDENT RECOURSE, AND HUSSIAN COLLEGE'S SOLE LIABILITY TO AFFECTED STUDENTS AND/OR ANY PERSON SEEKING A RETURN OF AMOUNTS PAID, OR CANCELLATION OF AMOUNTS OWED, TO HUSSIAN COLLEGE, RELATED TO PROGRAM CHANGES INSTITUTED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THIS PARAGRAPH SHALL BE LIMITED TO THE STUDENT'S EXPRESS RIGHTS TO REFUND OF TUITION AND/OR FEES UNDER THEIR APPLICABLE ENROLLMENT AGREEMENT AND OTHER APPLICABLE HUSSIAN COLLEGE POLICY.

Academic Policies and Procedures

Hussian College Grading Chart:

Letter Grade	Percentage	Quality Points	Meaning
A	90-100	4	N/A
B	80-89	3	N/A
C	70-79	2	N/A
D	60-69	1	N/A
F	Below 60	0	N/A
I	N/A	N/A	Incomplete
W	N/A	N/A	Withdrawal
TC	N/A	N/A	Transfer Credit; Standardized Testing credit; Prior Learning Credit
Pass	N/A	N/A	Only for classes designated as Pass/Fail
Fail	NA	NA	Only for classes designated as Pass/Fail

Definition of Course Grades

Meaning/Policy
Incomplete (I) A grade of "I" is awarded at the faculty member's discretion when a student has a reasonable likelihood of successfully completing the course requirements during the extended time allowed. Any outstanding coursework must be completed within ten calendar days after the end of the term. If the required coursework is not complete within the ten calendar days, the "I" grade will revert to the grade earned for all coursework completed prior to the "I" grade being awarded. For purposes of calculating the grade point average or Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA), an "I" grade is counted as an "F" grade. If the "I" grade changes to a passing grade, the grade point average and Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) is recalculated; Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) is also recalculated if the "I" grade changes to a passing grade. For purposes of calculating the completion rate percentage, an "I" grade is counted as credits attempted but not earned.
Withdrawal (W) Students withdrawing from a course during the drop/add period will have the course removed from their transcript. Students withdrawing from a course after the drop/add period will receive a grade of "W" for the course. The "W" grade is not calculated in the grade point average of Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA); however, the "W" grade is counted as credits attempted but not earned and is therefore computed in the completion rate percentage.
Pass/Fail Pass/Fail grades are only awarded to courses designated as Pass/Fail courses. Pass/Fail credits do not count as credits attempted nor as part of the completion rate percentage.
Transfer Credit (TC) This is the grade awarded for transfer credit, credit awarded for prior learning, and credit awarded for standardized examinations. This grade is not computed in determining grade point average or Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA); however, transfer credits are computed in the completion rate percentage as credits attempted and earned.

Make Up Policy

Except for final examinations, make up work is at the discretion of the faculty member teaching the course.

Disability Disclosure

The College's policy is to provide reasonable accommodations for disabled students, including learning disabled students and those with health and physical impairments, consistent with the Americans with Disability Act of 1990 ("ADA") and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 ("the Rehabilitation Act"). The College complies with the ADA and the Rehabilitation Act.

Entering students whose disabilities may require accommodations must bring their written requests for reasonable accommodations and required documentation to the attention of the Dean of Academic Affairs and/or the Dean's designee as early as possible before the beginning of the semester.

Continuing students have an affirmative duty to notify the College in writing and provide the required documentation regarding requests for reasonable accommodations to the Dean of Academic Affairs and/or the Dean's designee no later than two weeks prior to the date of mid-term exams, final exams, or due dates for writing assignments.

All students who require auxiliary services must also contact the Dean of Academic Affairs and/or the Dean's designee and provide written documentation related to their disability from a qualified medical professional, along with a written request for auxiliary services, as early as possible before the beginning of each semester.

Students who request accommodations because of a learning disability are required to provide written documentation that: (i) is prepared by a professional qualified to diagnose a learning disability, including not limited to a licensed physician, learning disability specialist, or psychologist; (ii) includes the testing procedures followed, the instruments used to assess the disability, the test results, and an interpretation of the test results; and (iii) reflects the individual's present level of achievement. The student's documentation should be as comprehensive as possible and dated no more than three years prior to the student's request for services, unless the student had documentation as an undergraduate. Documentation should adequately measure cognitive abilities (using the Wechsler Adult Intelligence Scale Revised or equivalent test) and academic achievement skills (using Woodcock Johnson Part II, Wide Range Achievement Test, Nelson Denny or equivalent test). The achievement test should sample reading, math and writing.

The documentation must include test results for at least the following characteristics: intelligence, vocabulary, reading rate, reading comprehension, spelling, mathematical comprehension, memory, and processing skills.

The College keeps all information pertaining to a student's disability confidential and discloses such information only to the extent necessary to provide accommodation for the student's disability. Where it is deemed appropriate by the Dean of Academic Affairs and/or Dean's designee, a qualified professional may be retained by the College to determine the appropriate accommodation for a disability. The Dean of Academic Affairs and/or Dean's designee is vested with the authority to develop a reasonable accommodation plan for all qualified persons with a disability at the College under the ADA or Rehabilitation Act.

Any student who identifies physical, architectural or other barrier problems should promptly bring these to the attention of the Dean and/or Dean's designee.

A student may appeal the Dean of Academic Affairs and/or Dean's designee decision regarding the existence of a disability, the denial of an accommodation, or the provisions of the accommodation plan by filing a written complaint with the Dean no later than 2 weeks following notification of the decision. The Dean's decision should be final.

Course Repetitions

Students are permitted to repeat and replace up to 15 credits, subject to limitations regarding Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP). Students may only repeat courses in which they received a D or F. Students must pay for repeated courses. Course repeats are subject to availability.

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) Policy

Compliance with satisfactory academic progress is determined at the end of each term through evaluation of individual student progress reports. To be considered as achieving satisfactory academic progress (SAP), all students must meet the following three benchmarks when evaluated at the end of each term:

1. Completion Rate Percentage
2. Minimum Cumulative Grade Point Average
3. Maximum Time Frame for Completion

1. Completion Rate Percentage

The student must successfully complete the minimum completion rate percentage in accordance with the appropriate guidelines listed below. This is calculated by the following formula:

$$\text{Completion rate percentage} = \frac{\text{credits earned}}{\text{credits attempted}}$$

Courses where a student withdrew, failed, was awarded and "I" grade, or was awarded no credit count as attempted but not completed. Transfer credits are computed in the completion rate percentage as attempted and earned.

If a student transfers to a different program within the College, all credits attempted and earned that count towards the new program also count in the completion rate percentage, cumulative grade point average, and maximum time frame.

Students in all levels must be working toward graduation requirements.

3. Maximum Time Frame for Completion

The student must complete the program within a time frame that does not exceed 150% of the published length of the program. Length is based on the total program credits. For example, if a program is 100 credits, the student must be able to complete the program within 150 credits or less.

At the end of each term, after final grades have been posted, each student's rate of progress and CGPA will be evaluated to determine if the student is meeting the SAP requirements outlined in the tables above.

A student who does not meet the SAP requirements outlined above will be placed on Financial Aid Warning. Upon completion of the next term, the student's SAP will be evaluated and if the student meets or exceeds the minimum requirements for SAP, they will be removed from Financial Aid Warning. If the student does not meet the minimum requirements for SAP, the student will be dismissed unless they successfully appeal to maintain enrollment and eligibility for federal financial aid. A student may file an appeal, in writing, as outlined below in the section labeled "Appeal of Academic Dismissal and Reinstatement" within five (5) business days of receiving written notification that they are not meeting SAP standards. If a student's appeal is approved, the student will be placed on Financial Aid Probation for next term and will need an academic plan. Upon completion of the term in which the student is on Financial Aid Probation, SAP will be evaluated and if the student has met or exceeded the minimum requirements for SAP, they will be removed from Financial Aid Probation. If, however, the student does not meet the minimum requirements for SAP, they will be dismissed from the program.

Students who have been dismissed from their program due to SAP have the option to enroll in a different program, provided they meet SAP and Maximum Time Frame for Completion requirements after evaluation of any transfer credits for the new program.

Appeal of Academic Dismissal and Reinstatement

Students have the right to appeal a SAP dismissal. Students must submit the appeal in writing. The written appeal should describe the extenuating circumstances that contributed to the dismissal. Examples of extenuating circumstances include but are not limited to the following:

- Death of an immediate family member
- Student illness requiring hospitalization
- Severe illness of an immediate family member where the student is a primary caretaker
- Illness of an immediate family member where that family member is the primary financial support
- Abusive relationship
- Divorce proceeding
- Natural disaster
- Financial hardship such as foreclosure or eviction
- Military deployment of the student or the student's spouse
- Military permanent change of station (PCS)

Students must provide documentation to support validation of their extenuating circumstances. The written appeal must state the reason(s) for the appeal and provide any evidence the student may have in support of his or her position. As part of the written appeal, the student must describe what has changed that will allow the student to be academically successful and, ultimately, meet the standards for Satisfactory Academic Progress. The Director of Education will determine if a basis for an appeal has been sufficiently supported. If sufficient support for the appeal has been provided the Appeals Committee will gather and reviews relevant information in order to make its decision.

Appeals Committee Procedures

Students have up to 5 calendar days from the date of dismissal to file a written appeal with campus Dean of Academic Affairs/Director of Education, or in the absence of a campus Dean of Academic Affairs/Director of Education, the VP of Academics. Students should provide documentation to support the allegations in the appeal. The written appeal will be reviewed by the Dean of Academic Affairs/Director of Education to determine if the circumstances of the appeal meet one or more of the extenuating circumstances described above. If the student's appeal meets one or more of the extenuating circumstances, the student may be re-admitted if it is determined that Satisfactory Academic Progress standards can be met within one academic term/session.

Re-Admission

A student who has interrupted their education in good academic standing may simply contact the Office of Admissions to begin the readmission process. A student who has been terminated for excessive absences or other reasons, other than not meeting satisfactory academic progress standards, may be readmitted after one semester. The student must re-apply in writing stating how the conditions for termination have been resolved, and if accepted, may then be reinstated on probationary status.

Personal Conduct

The college provides a setting and atmosphere for learning and the development of professional skills. In encouraging this purpose, students are expected to respect the rights of others and adhere to acceptable standards of personal conduct with maturity and responsibility. Students are expected to comply with the policies and procedures of the College. Conduct inconsistent with these expectations will result in disciplinary actions.

The restrictions on conduct set forth in this section shall apply to conduct that occurs on the College premises, at College sponsored activities, and to off-campus conduct that adversely affects the College community and/or the pursuit of its objectives. Each student shall be responsible for his/her conduct from the time of application for admission through the actual awarding of a degree, even though conduct may occur before classes begin or after classes end, as well as during the academic year and during periods between terms of actual enrollment (and even if their conduct is not discovered until after a degree is awarded). The restrictions on conduct set forth in this section shall apply to a student's conduct even if the student withdraws from college while a disciplinary matter is pending. The Dean of Academic Affairs of the College shall decide whether the Student Code shall be applied to conduct occurring off campus, on a case-by-case basis, in his/her sole discretion.

Any student found to have committed or to have attempted to commit the following misconduct is subject to disciplinary sanctions:

Improper Conduct

Conduct that is disorderly, lewd, or indecent' breach of peace; or aiding, abetting, or procuring another person to breach the peace on the College premises or at functions sponsored by, or participated in by, the College or members of the College community. Disorderly Conduct includes but is not limited to: Any unauthorized use of electronic or other devices to make an audio or video record of any person while on College premises without his/her prior knowledge, or without his/her effective consent when such a recording is likely to cause injury or distress.

Use of Alcohol

Use, possession, manufacturing, or distribution of alcoholic beverages (except as expressly permitted by College regulations), or public intoxication. Alcoholic beverages may not, in any circumstances, be used by, possessed or distributed to any person under twenty-one (21) years of age.

Narcotics

Use, possession, manufacturing, or distribution of marijuana, heroin, or other controlled substances except as expressly permitted by law.

Firearms, Munitions, Explosives

Possession, use, or threatened use of firearms, fireworks, ammunition, explosive, chemicals or any other objects as weapons on campus property or at College-sponsored events, except as expressly authorized by law or College regulation.

Facilities

Unauthorized entry to, or use of, College facilities is prohibited. Unauthorized possession, duplication or use of keys to any College facilities or interior rooms is prohibited.

Property Damage

Damage or destruction of the property of others, or of the College, including the deliberate defacement of library materials, buildings, sidewalks, furniture, walls, or trees. (NOTE: The penalty for violation of this section may include replacement or repair of property in addition to other disciplinary action.)

Theft

Attempted or actual theft of property of the College or property of a member of the College community or other personal or public property, on or off campus.

Disruption

Disruption or obstruction of teaching, research, administration, disciplinary proceedings, or other College activities, including its public service functions on or off campus, or of other authorized non-College activities when the conduct occurs on College premises.

Proper Conduct

Students are required to engage in responsible social conduct that reflects credit upon the College community and to model good citizenship in any community.

Acts of Dishonesty

Acts of dishonesty, including but not limited to the following: cheating, plagiarism, or other forms of academic dishonesty; furnishing false information to any College official, faculty member, or office; and forgery, alteration, or misuse of any College document, record, or instrument of identification.

Violation of Law

Violation of any federal, state or local law.

Non-Discrimination Policy/Equal Education Policy

The College provides equal opportunity for admission, and in education and employment for all qualified persons, regardless of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identify, age, disability, or veteran status.

Discrimination Complaint Procedure

Students who believe they have been subjected to discrimination or harassment in violation of the Non-Discrimination Policy should follow the procedure outlined below. This complaint procedure is intended to provide a fair, prompt and reliable determination about whether the Hussian College Non-Discrimination Policy has been violated.

1. Complainants are encouraged to file a complaint as soon as possible after an alleged incident of discrimination has occurred. Any student who chooses to file a discrimination complaint should do so with the Dean of Academic Affairs. The complaint should be presented in writing and it should describe the alleged incident(s) and any corrective action sought. The complaint should be signed by the complainant.
2. Within 48 hours, the Dean of Academic Affairs will initiate an investigation of the allegations. Both the accuser and the accused are entitled to have others present during a disciplinary proceeding which will be convened by the Dean of Academic Affairs after providing at least ten (10) days notice to both parties. Both will be informed of the outcome of any campus disciplinary proceeding. For this purpose, the outcome of a disciplinary proceeding means only Hussian College's final determination with respect to the alleged violation and any sanction that is imposed against the accused. Both the complainant and the accused will have the opportunity to meet and discuss the allegations with the Dean of Academic Affairs and inspect the documents offered as proof during the proceeding. Either party may offer any witnesses in support of their position to the Dean of Academic Affairs during the course of the investigation. A student may be accompanied during investigation meetings and discussions by one person (family member, friend, etc.) who can act as an observer, provide emotional support, and/or assist the student in understanding and cooperating in the investigation. Imposed restrictions on the ability of observers to speak or otherwise participate in the proceedings apply equally to all parties. The Dean of Academic Affairs may prohibit disruptive individuals from attending or remove any person who disrupts the investigation in the investigator's sole discretion.
3. The student who made the complaint and the accused shall be informed promptly in writing when the investigation is completed, no later than 45 calendar days from the date the complaint was filed. The written decision will include an evaluation of the facts and will be based on the evidence provided during the proceeding. The student who made the complaint shall be informed if there were findings made that the policy was or was not violated and of actions taken to resolve the complaint, if any, that are directly related to him/her, such as an order that the accused not contact the student who made the complaint. In accordance with institutional policies protecting individuals' privacy, the student who made the complaint may generally be notified that the matter has been referred for disciplinary action, but shall not be informed of the details of the recommended disciplinary action without the consent of the accused.
4. The decision of the Dean of Academic Affairs may be appealed by petitioning the Vice President of Academics. The written appeal must be made within 20 calendar days of receipt of the determination letter from the Dean of Academic Affairs. The Vice President of Academics or his/her designee, will render a written decision on the appeal within 30 calendar days from the receipt of the appeal. The Vice President of Academic's decision shall be final.

5. For more information about your rights under the federal laws prohibiting discrimination, please contact the Office for Civil Rights at the U.S. Department of Education or visit the Web site at <http://www.ed.gov/ocr>.

Documentation on the complaint submitted following the published complaint procedure, supporting documentation of the investigation, and Hussian's response is maintain by the Executive Director of Accreditation and Compliance. All complaints are documented on a Hussian College Complaint Log.

Sexual and other Unlawful Harassment

The College will endeavor to maintain an educational environment that nourishes respect for the dignity of each individual. This policy is adopted in furtherance of that tradition.

It is against the policies of the College for community members to harass another person because of the person's sex, race, color, religion, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, marital status or other characteristic protected by law. Actions, words, jokes, or comments that are intended to or that have the effect of personally denigrating, embarrassing, annoying or harassing another member of the College community based on such characteristics will not be tolerated. This policy will not be applied to deny a person's right to free speech.

Individuals who believe they have been the subject of sexual harassment or other conduct that is violative of this policy may obtain redress through the established informal and formal procedures of the College. Complaints can be made by reporting to the school's third-party hotline through one of the following avenues:

- Website: www.lighthouse-services.com/hussiancollege
- Toll free number: English speaking: 833-687-0005; Spanish speaking: 800-216-1288
- Email: reports@lighthouse-services.com (must include school name with report)

Such complaints will be responded to promptly. Reports to the hotline can be made anonymously. Confidentiality will be provided to the extent feasible in light of the College's legal obligations.

A witness or victim of an incident of sexual harassment or sexual violence who reports the incident in good faith will not be sanctioned by the College for admitting in the report to a violation of the institution's student conduct policy on the personal use of drugs or alcohol.

Any person who, or entity that, engages in conduct in violation of this policy will be subject to discipline in accordance with the policies and procedures of the College.

Academic Honesty Policy

All work, whether written or oral, submitted or presented by students at the college as part of course assignments or requirements or for college sponsored extracurricular activities must be the original work of the student unless otherwise expressly permitted by the instructor. Any use of the specific thoughts, ideas, writings or phrasings of another person (whether that person be a student, an acquaintance, a relative, a journalist, a recognized scholar or any other individual) must be accompanied in each instance of use by some form of attribution to the source.

It is prohibited to provide or receive unauthorized assistance in the taking of examinations, tests, or quizzes or in the preparation of any other performance requirement of a course. Such restrictions shall include, but not be limited to, the following practices or activities: the use of any unauthorized material in the taking of an examination, test or quiz or in the preparation of course program or degree work; the solicitation or use of a proxy test taker or the taking of a test, examination or quiz or the preparation or presentation of a course, program or degree assignment or requirement on the behalf of another; obtaining or providing assistance to another person or group of persons without the instructor's express prior permission during an examination, test or quiz; the submission or presentation of a falsified excuse for an absence from a course requirement, examination, test or quiz either directly or through another source; and the presentation of false identification or credentials in order to gain admission to a course, examination, test or quiz, degree program, or School sponsored activity.

Discipline and Dismissal Policy (Conduct)

In addition to unsatisfactory grades, non-payment of tuition and fees, and academic dishonesty, a student may be subjected to College imposed disciplinary action including but not limited to suspension or expulsion for violation of any College policy, rule, regulation or procedure. Improper student conduct may be referred to proper law enforcement officials and could result in civil and criminal legal judgements, penalties, fines, or other serious legal consequences.

Procedure for Student Discipline

The following disciplinary procedure is designed to preserve the mission of the College, and the health and safety of its students. This policy outlines the basic structure of the procedure for Student Discipline. The administration reserves the right both to define the severity of any violation and to choose the appropriate consequences. For serious violations, students may be suspended or even expelled. The Dean of Academic Affairs (DAA) and Student Services Coordinator shall act in their reasonable discretion to assess any violation and effect appropriate consequences. The DAA and the Student Services Coordinator may seek counsel and advice of the Vice President of Academics or their designee, at any time, who also may choose to effect any disciplinary decision directly, at his or her discretion, including immediate removal of any student in appropriate circumstances. If an urgent issue shall arise, any member of the administration shall act at their discretion and take any temporary and immediate measures necessary to remediate the urgency of the matter.

Notification of Student Violation

Reports of student violations are typically, but not exclusively generated by building security (private contractor), public safety officials, and other staff and students. Reports shall be delivered to the Dean of Academic Affairs (DAA) or Student Services Coordinator. The DAA will notify a student of the violation report and provide written details of the violation and its consequences. Copies of disciplinary documents are typically provided to appropriate College administrators with a legitimate educational interest in reviewing such material.

Appeal Process

Each student subject to disciplinary action may formally appeal that action by submitting a written appeal to the DAA in all cases and must present new evidence. The Dean of Academic Affairs (DAA), at his/her discretion, may require the student to submit other materials in addition to or in place of the aforementioned appeal form. Upon receipt of an appeal, the DAA will oversee a background investigation of the violation in question. The DAA will notify the student of the administrative decision on the appeal.

In instances of suspension or expulsion, the student may file an appeal with the Vice President of Academics within five business days of receiving notice of such suspension or expulsion.

Suspension and Expulsion

Suspension means the student will be removed as student from the College. The length of suspension shall be determined by the Dean of Academic Affairs of the College and can depend upon the number of violations committed, severity of the violation, or other aggravating circumstances. Expulsion means the student will be removed permanently as a student from the College and his/her matriculation is terminated. The College reserves the right to deny readmission for cause to any student.

Termination of Students

In addition to unsatisfactory grades or academic dishonesty, a student may be suspended or expelled for any violation of the school's policies or regulations; discriminatory or unacceptable behavior; malicious damage or theft of school property; disorderly or disruptive conduct; an attitude that is detrimental to the classroom or higher education environment; excessive absences; and the use, sale, or possession of illegal drugs, weapons, narcotics, alcohol, or any other controlled substances or being under the influence of a controlled substance while in college.

Academic Appeals Policy and Procedure

Any student who believes a College faculty member or administrator has treated him or her unfairly with respect to an assessment of the student's academic performance in a course in which the student was enrolled may submit a formal complaint in writing regarding such alleged unfair treatment, which will be addressed through the following process:

Step 1: Conference with Faculty Member. The student shall set forth the circumstances giving rise to any alleged unfair treatment in a detailed written statement and the student shall deliver a copy of the statement to the faculty member in a good faith attempt to discuss and resolve the matter directly.

Step 2: Appeal to the Dean or Program Chair. If the complaint is not resolved to the satisfaction of the student by the faculty member, he or she shall have the right to appeal such matter to the Dean of Academic Affairs (DAA) or his or her designee, the program chair. In order to consider the appeal, the DAA must be given a copy of the original written complaint.

Step 3: Appeal to the Vice President of Academics. If the complaint is not satisfactorily resolved by the DAA, then the student shall have the right to appeal such matter to the Vice President of Academics or his or her designee. After review, the Vice President of Academics may resolve the matter or refer the matter to an academic appeals committee appointed by the Vice President of Academics for further review.

Appeal to the Academic Appeals Committee. The function of the Academic Appeals Committee is to hear student complaints of alleged unfair treatment by members of the faculty. The Committee shall receive complaints only by referral from the Vice President of Academics and shall not otherwise receive or hear complaints.

Composition and Appointment of the Committee. The Academic Appeals Committee is appointed by the Vice President of Academics. The Vice President of Academics shall appoint the members of the Committee on a case-by-case basis and shall consist of five members, including three faculty members and two students. The Committee shall function as a hearings panel and shall arrange a conference between the parties involved and attempt to mediate and adjudicate the matter. At least three members of the panel (two faculty members and one student) shall participate in any meeting with the parties involved. The meeting shall be informal and private and conducted for the purpose of resolving the matter to the agreement of both parties or reaching a recommended disposition.

Appeals Committee Recommendation. If a resolution agreeable to both parties is not reached, then the Committee shall make a recommendation concerning the disposition of the appeal to the Vice President of Academics.

Student Complaint/Grievance Procedure

Step 1. Informal Complaint

Complainant should raise his or her concerns with the staff or faculty member who has direct responsibility and the ability to address the matter in question to try to achieve a satisfactory resolution.

If the complainant is unable or unwilling to raise his or her concern with the individual directly involved, the complaint should be made to the individual's immediate supervisor. This individual will respond to the complaint within five working days.

If the complainant does not feel that his or her concerns have been adequately addressed, then he or she should make a formal complaint to the Dean/Director of Education; this includes complaints that fall outside of the academic realm.

Step 2. Formal Complaint

The complainant should submit his or her complaint in writing to the Program Director or Dean/Director of Education. The recipient will acknowledge the complaint within five working days.

The Program Director or Dean/Director of Education will investigate the complaint, and provide a reply to the complainant in writing, within 15 working days. A copy of the response will be forwarded to the Executive Director of Compliance and Accreditation to be kept on file for five years.

Step 3. Appeals Process

Should the complainant be unsatisfied with the resolution decided upon by the College, he or she may appeal the decision within 7 working days of the receipt of the resolution by sending the appeal to regulatory@hussiancollege.edu.

The Regulatory department will convene a committee of up to three members to review the appeal, participate in a hearing, and make a decision. At the hearing, all parties have the opportunity to be heard, present supporting documents and bring witnesses. The committee will notify complainant(s) of the decision regarding the appeal no later than 15 working days following the hearing. All decisions made by the committee are final.

Documentation of the complaint submitted following the published Student Grievance Policy, supporting documentation of the investigation, and the College's response, is maintained by the Executive Director of Compliance and Accreditation.

Unresolved Complaints

If a student does not feel that the College has adequately addressed a complaint or concern, the student may consider contacting the Accrediting Commission. All complaints considered by the Commission must be in written form, with permission from the complainant(s) for the Commission to forward a copy of the complaint to the college for a response. The complainant(s) will be kept informed as to the status of the complaint as well as the final resolution by the Commission.

Please direct all inquiries to:

Accrediting Commission of Career Schools and Colleges (ACCSC)

A copy of the ACCSC Complaint Form is available at the school and may be obtained by contacting regulatory@hussiancollege.edu or online at www.accsc.org.

Attendance Policy

Time in class is comprised of many important activities including but not limited to: discussion, demonstrations, critique, slide presentations, and work in class. Since it is not possible to replicate this experience outside of class, attendance is mandatory.

Students must attend every class. Attendance has a direct bearing on the students' final grade in each course.

Leave of Absence

Students are expected to maintain continuous enrollment from the time they start their program until graduation. Students should consult with the Dean of Academic Affairs if a situation arises requiring them to interrupt their education to take a leave of absence. A student could interrupt their education by either withdrawing from the college or taking a Leave of Absence (LOA) for a term. If there is a reasonable expectation the student will return when the LOA expires and after the request form has been submitted along with the supporting documentation, a LOA may be granted for the following reasons:

- Medical;
- Employment Conflict;
- Military;
- Death of an immediate family member; or
- Illness of a family member (spouse, child or parent)

A student requesting a LOA needs to be aware that:

1. A leave of absence has no effect on the student's standards of progress. However, a leave of absence will have an effect on financial assistance and will extend the program completion time.
2. A student may start the process to request a LOA prior to the term the student is requesting the leave. The request for the LOA should be received and approved prior to the last day of the Drop/Add period of the term the student is requesting the leave.
3. Students who follow the college process and whose leave is approved in accordance with the policy need not apply for re-admission when they return. Re-admission may be denied based on crimes or other serious misconduct occurring during the leave that would have been grounds for suspension or expulsion had the student engaged in the conduct while enrolled.

4. Only one leave of absence may be granted to a student in a 12-month period and cannot exceed 180 days during a consecutive 12-month time frame.

Failure to return from an approved leave of absence will result in withdrawal from the school, may have an impact on aid, loan repayment and exhaustion of the loan grace period for the total days the student was on the LOA. Students in a LOA status may not receive further financial aid disbursements until returning to active status.

Unofficial Withdrawal

Effective 03/01/2021:

The College may unofficially withdrawal a student after twenty-one (21) days of absence from all classes from the start of the term. The College may process the withdrawal on the 22nd day absent. The date of determination becomes the 21st day from the end of the previous term, and the College will complete a Return to Title IV calculation for the United States Department of Education if Title IV funds were used by the withdrawn student.

Program Change

Current students that wish to switch from one program to another must be in good academic standing. Students are not guaranteed admission into the new program and must complete the current admissions process outlined for such program. Approval must be granted from the Chair of the new program, Dean of Academic Affairs or Associate Dean, and Registrar. A change in program could require additional courses and credit hours in order to meet the minimum graduation requirements. A change of program may delay graduation and could affect financial aid eligibility.

Drop/Add Period – Degree Programs

Students that wish to drop one course and/or add another can do so without financial or academic penalty within ten (10) calendar days of the start of the semester (with the exception of courses scheduled for Studio Week); however, in no instance can a course be dropped or added after the course end date. Students that wish to drop or add a Studio Week course can do so without financial or academic penalty within one (1) calendar day of the start of the semester. Switching courses during the prescribed period may have serious consequences for academic progress and for financial aid eligibility. Approval from the Dean of Academic Affairs or Associate Dean is required.

Withdrawing From a Course – Degree Programs

Students can only withdraw from Studio Week courses within the prescribed drop/add period as identified in the Drop/Add – Degree Programs section of the Catalog. For all other courses, students that wish to withdraw from a course after the drop/add period can do so up through the end of the 8th week of the semester. Students will earn a grade of “W” for any courses in which they withdraw after the drop/add period. In no circumstances may a student withdraw from a course after the 8th week of the semester has concluded.

Class Observation Attendance Policy

Students are invited to observe classes when they do not believe they are physically able to participate. All students who observe will be marked present, but only students with a note from a healthcare provider regarding their inability to participate in physical activity will receive a positive participation grade for that class period. This note should be presented to their instructor at the start of class or as soon as possible. Students excused from physical activity will be able to earn a positive participation grade through an alternate assignment to be assigned at the instructor's discretion and completed during the class period. Students not excused from physical participation will receive a participation grade of "0" regardless of completion of any alternate participation assignment. The intent of this policy is to underline the importance of class participation as medically appropriate for all students.

Class Size

Hussian College seeks to maintain a nurturing community. Class size is limited to no more than 20 students per class in any workshop-based class in order to give students one-on-one attention for all craft-based learning.

Class Standing

Your class standing is determined by the number of credits completed.

Freshman 0 – 29 credits

Sophomore 30 – 59 credits

Junior 60 – 89 credits

Senior 90 – 120 credits

Dean's List

Students who take at least 12 credits in a semester and earn a GPA of 3.50 or higher (out of 4.0) are awarded placement on the Dean's List at the end of each semester. Student's who earn a GPA of 4.0 are awarded placement on the President's List.

Undergraduate Programs - Graduation Requirements

Students who complete all required courses and the minimum total credits specified for their program of study (see above) with a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.0 will receive a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree for the program areas of Acting, Art, Contemporary Musical Theater and Film, Commercial Dance, Film & Digital Content and a Bachelor of Arts degree for the program area of Entrepreneurship.

Graduation Honors

Graduation with honors is granted to undergraduate students who achieve high grade point averages. Excellence is recognized at three levels: Cum Laude (3.50-3.64), Magna Cum Laude (3.65-3.79), and Summa Cum Laude (3.80-4.00).

Graduate Programs - Graduation Requirements

Graduation requirements for the Master of Science in UX Design are:

1. Successful completion of all courses with a grade of C or higher; and
2. Cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or higher; and
3. Successful completion of the Master's capstone, meeting the minimum requirements established by the program rubric

Upon completion of the graduation requirements, graduates will be awarded a Master of Science (M.S.) in UX Design

Financial Obligations

A student's financial obligations must be satisfied before a Bachelor of Fine Arts (BFA) or Bachelor of Arts (BA) Degree or Certificate of Completion is granted or academic transcripts are issued.

Credit Explanation

For Semester Programs:

The ratio of clock hours to credit hours for lecture classes is one credit hour for each fifteen clock hours of scheduled classroom or other supervised activities, which contemplates thirty hours of outside preparation; and for lab/studio classes, one credit hour for each thirty clock hours of laboratory/studio work plus necessary outside preparation. Courses may be both a combination of lecture and laboratory/studio depending on the content of the course. For Internships/Externships one credit is equivalent to 45 clock hours.

For Quarter Term Programs:

A quarter credit hour is defined as a minimum of ten (10) classroom lecture periods of not less than 50 minutes each and which assumes outside reading and/or preparation; twenty (20) laboratory clock hours where classroom theory is applied and explored, or manipulative skills are enhanced; thirty (30) hours of external discipline-related work experience with indirect instructor supervision or employer assessment; or an appropriate combination of all three (3).

Transfer of Hussian College Credits

The acceptance of credits by any institution is made at the sole discretion of the receiving institution. No representation whatsoever is made concerning the transferability of any credits to any institution. Students considering continuing their education at, or transferring to, other institutions must not assume that credits earned at this school or any other school will be accepted by the receiving institution. Contact the Registrar of the receiving institution to determine what credits may be accepted.

Transcript

An official academic transcript is a copy of a student's permanent record, signed by a school official and imprinted with an official seal of the college. Directions for ordering a transcript can be found at: <https://studioschool.edu/academics/transcript-request/>

Program Advisory Committee

Hussian College's Program Advisory Committee (PAC) is composed of thought leaders in higher education as well as industry experts, working professionals and representatives from the employment community within the fields of Art, Acting, Commercial Dance, Musical Theatre, Entrepreneurship, and Film & Digital Content. The purpose of the Program Advisory Committee is to review the established curricula of the program, instructional-related program materials, equipment and facilities, and student achievement outcomes as a means to provide the college with an external review of its programs.

Right of Publication/Exhibition

The school reserves the right to reproduce the best student work and to use videos and photographs of students and faculty in classes, and school activities in its literature and promotion. The school also reserves the right to select student work for exhibition in school and external presentations for educational purposes. Although the school will take all precautionary measures to protect the artwork, the school cannot assume responsibility or liability for, damage to, or loss of same.

Admissions

The full range of opportunities at Hussian College is available to all students, without regard to race, color, age, religion, sex, national origin, disability, or veteran status, in accordance with law, who meet School's admissions requirements.

Hussian College reserves the right to deny admission, continued enrollment, or re-enrollment to any applicant or student whose personal history and background indicate that his or her presence at the college would endanger the health, safety, welfare, or property of the members of the academic community or interfere with the orderly and effective performance of the college's functions. Hussian College reserves the right to deny, revoke, and alter the academic records, degrees, awards, and other credentials, change the standing, and inform professional or disciplinary agencies of such changes, of any person who, while a student or applying for admission to Hussian College, engages in, submits, or who has engaged in or submitted false, dishonest, or inaccurate credentials, coursework, or other information, or violated Hussian College's policies, rules or regulations.

Undergraduate Admission Requirements

A high school diploma or equivalent is required for enrollment in the program. The admissions office will confirm all students' transcripts arrive from a high school with a CEEB code, as well as the high school seal and/or signature. If a transcript is from a high school that lacks a CEEB code or seal/signature, the admission office will investigate to confirm the school is recognized by the state department of education or home school association. The admissions office may request a copy of the student's diploma at any point in the admission process. If a diploma is determined invalid or is unavailable, a GED may be required to confirm the applicant's ability to benefit status for admission consideration. Hussian College does not admit ability-to-benefit students.

Admissions Procedures

All applicants to Hussian College submit a required online application, submit high school transcripts or the equivalent, college transcripts if applicable, pertinent work product if available, and complete a creative assessment activity.

Graduate Admission Requirements

Admissions for the Master of Science in UX Design requires:

Graduate Admissions Requirements for Non-International Students

1. A BA, BS, MA or MS from a college or university that is accredited by an agency recognized by both the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA) and the US Department of Education (ED). Applicants must provide an official transcript.
2. Previous coursework or experience in Design, Art, IT, and/or UI (user-interface) required.
3. A portfolio that demonstrates your ability to create, solve, and produce. The portfolio should contain deliverables that demonstrate creativity, problem-solving aptitude and attention to detail.

Graduate Admissions Requirements for International Students

1. A BA, BS, MA or MS from a college or university that is accredited by an agency recognized by both the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA) and the US Department of Education (ED). Applicants must provide an official transcript; OR
2. An international degree that is equivalent to a U.S. bachelor's degree from a college or university recognized and approved by the higher education authority in the country where the degree is earned.
3. Previous coursework or experience in Design, Art, IT, and/or UI (user-interface) required.
4. A portfolio that demonstrates your ability to create, solve, and produce. The portfolio should contain deliverables that demonstrate creativity, problem-solving aptitude and attention to detail.
5. An F-1 Visa
6. An affidavit of financial support
7. All instruction takes place in English. Proof of English Language Proficiency is required of all students whose native language is not English. Scores are available as early as 15 business days from the date of testing. The TOEFL/IELTS requirement may be waived for applicants who have earned a four-year degree from a U.S. College or University, or for citizens of the following countries whose native language is also English: England, Scotland, Wales, Ireland, Australia, New Zealand, Canada, or South Africa.

Transfer Credit From Prior Institutions

Transfer Credit from Prior Institutions

College-level credits earned from a postsecondary institution accredited by an agency that is recognized by the US Department of Education will be considered for transfer.

College-level credits earned at postsecondary institutions outside of the United States will be considered for transfer but must first be evaluated by a NACES (National Associate of Credential Evaluation Services) member agency.

The student requesting transfer credit must provide the College with an official transcript or the required evaluation from a NACES member agency for all credits being evaluated for transfer. The College will evaluate the official transcript(s) and award appropriate credit (or clock hours for clock hour programs) toward a student's program and will notify the student. The College will consider credits and clock hours as long as:

- The request for transfer credit is made prior to the start of the term in which the student is scheduled to take the class(es) for which they are requesting transfer credit;
- The official transcript from the prior postsecondary institution or evaluation from the NACES member agency is provided to the College at least three (3) business days prior to the start of the term in which the student is scheduled to take the class(es) for which they are requesting transfer credit
- The course is equivalent in content to a course offered by the College;
- The credits or clock hours earned from the previous institution are not more than ten (10) years old;
- The number of credit or clock hours awarded meets or exceeds the number awarded for the equivalent course;
- The student earned a grade of "C" or better, and
- The student earned the credits prior to the start of the term for which transfer credit is being requested.

A minimum of 25% of the total program credits (or clock hours for clock hour programs) must be completed at the College.

Hussian College does not award credit for prior experiential learning.

Hussian College has not entered into an articulation or transfer agreement with any other college or university.

Impact of Transfer Credit on Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP)

For the purposes of satisfactory academic progress (SAP), any transfer credit awarded is not computed in determining cumulative grade point average; however, transfer credit is computed in the calculation of completion rate.

International Students

To study at Hussian College as a non-resident, students must first obtain an F-1 student visa. The F-1 student visa allows you to lawfully enter the U.S. and is not a tourist visa. In fact, it is different from all other visa types. You will not apply for your F-1 student visa until first being accepted into one of our programs and after we send you an authorized Immigration Form I-20. Students can apply within 120 days and can travel within 30 days from the start date of their I-20.

You will apply for your student visa at the nearest U.S. Embassy or Consulate and the application process usually involves a short in-person interview. Assuming you choose to arrive in the United States on your student visa, make sure that you take all of your paperwork with you, including your visa, your copies of the I-20 that the school sent you, and your passport. Before you leave home, check that your passport is up to date and valid for at least 6 months AFTER you are scheduled to finish your studies. Information for student F-1 visas and travel requirements is handled by the U.S. Department of State, Bureau of Consulate Affairs.

Hussian College does not provide visa services to international students, vouch for student status, or apply any associated charges related to visas or student status.

ESL

Cultural diversity is important to Hussian College – we welcome students that speak English as their second language. Hussian College does not currently offer on-campus English as a Second Language (ESL). All instruction takes place in English. Proof of English Language Proficiency is required of all students whose native language is not English. Language verification is not required if you graduated from a school in the U.S., UK, Australia or Canada (except Quebec). You may either submit TOEFL scores, IELTS Scores, or you may submit certification of English Language Studies. Please note the Institutional TOEFL is not acceptable. Our school TOEFL code is 7616.

Financial Aid

Hussian College participates in the following financial aid programs:

Federal Student Aid Programs

- The Federal Pell Grant Program
- William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan Programs (aka Stafford Loans)
- Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant – FSEOG
- Federal Work-Study Program
- Parent PLUS Loan

For more information on Federal Student Aid programs students should access the “Funding Your Education” informational pamphlet available online at:
<https://studentaid.ed.gov/sa/sites/default/files/funding-your-education.pdf>

State Student Aid (CA residence only):

- CalGrant
- CHAFFEE

Other Sources:

Student may qualify for other sources of financial aid including competitive and merit-based Hussian College scholarships (see below). Students are invited to meet with members of the Hussian College Financial Aid Staff for more information.

What We Do For You:

- Hussian College Financial Aid Staff is available to assist current and prospective students with:
- Locating sources of financial aid (Federal Aid, State Aid, Loans).
- Understanding eligibility requirements for each source of financial aid.
- Understanding the general terms and conditions associated with any chosen financial aid program.
- Obtaining financial aid applications.
- Completing and filing financial aid applications.

Your Rights:

- Hussian College feels that each student has the right to a full explanation of financial aid and determination of individual eligibility. For this reason, all prospective students are invited to have a personal interview with the Financial Aid Office. Please understand that the above eligibility requirements are general statements and a full and complete determination of a student’s eligibility will always depend upon the specific facts and circumstances of each student. Every student will be given the opportunity to seek eligibility to receive any sources of financial aid they choose.
- If a student receives federal student financial aid funds, the student is entitled to a refund of the monies not paid from federal financial aid funds.

Your Responsibilities:

- Every student is responsible for submitting accurate information when applying for financial aid. Failure to do so can result in denial of aid and/or changes in the aid awarded. Students are required to provide documentation intended to verify student aid application information when requested by the Financial Aid Office. Failure to provide verification information in a timely manner when requested may result in a denial of financial aid.
- Most information regarding approval of grants and loans is sent directly to the student. The student is responsible for delivering such grant and loan information to the school as soon as possible. Students are expected to notify the Financial Aid Office when there are changes in their financial status, enrollment status, address, or telephone numbers. Failure to do any of the above can result in denial of financial aid and interruption of classes.
- Students must maintain satisfactory progress to remain eligible for financial aid.
- If a student obtains a loan to pay for an educational program, the student will have to repay the full amount of the loan plus interest, less the amount of any refund.

Scholarships

Hussian College is committed to supporting qualified students to fulfill their educational goals. The timing of scholarship disbursements for each term is at the discretion of the college. For more information regarding any of these scholarship programs, please contact Hussian College Financial Aid Staff.

Deadline: N/A

Notification Date: August 8, 2021

Disbursal: Scholarship funds will be awarded throughout the recipient's academic career and be divided equally between eight (8) semesters.

This scholarship will be awarded to a conditionally accepted dancer who demonstrates extraordinary talent and potential in the field of commercial dance through both their technique and performance quality.

FAMILY SCHOLARSHIP

$100 per semester, per qualifying student

Number of scholarships: Unlimited

Deadline: N/A

Notification Date: N/A

The Alumni Legacy Scholarship provides up to a $100 award per semester in addition to any other scholarship awards.

Award Determination:

- Be a currently enrolled, full-time (minimum 12 semester units) Hussian College undergraduate student or be the sibling of a current Hussian College student or alumnus.
- Have a GPA of 2.5 or above if a continuing student or 2.0 or above if an incoming student.
- If an existing student, have demonstrated service to Hussian College through campus involvement in clubs and/or other campus volunteerism/extracurricular activity
- Each related family member who meets the above qualifications will receive the award

Scholarship Policies

- › Scholarship recipients must be enrolled full-time (12+ units).
- › A change of degree program, start-date deferral, or extended program interruption (such as a leave of absence) could result in the cancellation of a scholarship award.
- › Scholarship recipients must be in good academic standing, maintain an overall GPA of 2.5, and be free of disciplinary action.

Scholarship Terms & Conditions

All scholarship awards are tentative, subject to final verification of academic records and acceptance to Hussian College.

Requirements associated with receipt of a scholarship are made available to potential recipients. All scholarship recipients must be in good standing with the office of Student Services.

We reserve the right to review or cancel awards due to changes in financial standing, academic or program status, if such criteria are specified as requirements for receipt of a scholarship.

Awards require full-time enrollment (minimum 12 hours per semester); specifications are provided for each award.

Scholarship recipients must maintain the required cumulative grade point average. Grades are subject to review on a term-by-term basis. Unless specified otherwise by the terms of the scholarship, any scholarship recipient who earns a semester grade point average lower than a 2.5 will automatically be placed on probation. Two semesters below a cumulative GPA lower than 2.5 results in forfeiture of the scholarship.

Students receiving scholarship awards who withdraw from Hussian College must notify the Office of Student Services. Withdrawals count as a semester of eligibility.

If the scholarship is renewable, renewal will be automatic, contingent upon all conditions of the award being met. A student may receive a scholarship for up to four years (eight semesters total). Students receiving renewable scholarships are evaluated at the end of each spring semester to determine if they are eligible for continuation of the scholarship into the next academic year. The school will check to see if students met minimum criteria while receiving the award during the academic year. Students must review the award message attached to the scholarship award and be familiar with renewal criteria of their scholarship.

Unless otherwise noted, scholarship awards are disbursed in one-half amounts and applied towards fees during each registration fee payment period (fall and spring; awards are not available for summer terms, unless specifically indicated for that purpose). Award amounts in excess of fees will be made available to the students via direct deposit or check disbursement from the Finance Office. Scholarship recipients cannot exceed their Cost of Attendance (COA) in institutional funds. The combination of scholarships, federal aid, and outside assistance cannot exceed the COA figure. If a combination of all sources of aid exceeds the student's COA, Hussian College will reduce aid to keep the student within their COA.

Hussian College will start by reducing federal financial aid, such as loans, but may ultimately need to reduce institutional scholarships as well. (Scholarships have no impact on Pell Grant eligibility or amounts.)

Institutional scholarships awarded above a student's COA will be canceled and awarded to other deserving students. All students are provided an estimated COA.

Students who wish to be considered for a scholarship, and who qualify for federal aid, must complete an Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

The FAFSA is required for all need-based scholarship programs, unless specified differently by the terms of the scholarship. "Need" is determined by the Expected Family Contribution (EFC) input requested. The FAFSA is not required for students who do not qualify for federal aid (such as international students).

In some circumstances, Hussian College will defer scholarship(s) if a student's attendance is interrupted for medical reasons, military deployment, church service, or other selected reasons, provided that the student meets certain criteria.

For a student's scholarship(s) to be deferred, the student must attend at least one full-time semester prior to departure and meet the minimum criteria for renewal of scholarship(s) during the semester(s) prior to leaving. Enrollment at another college or university during the deferment period will result in an automatic cancellation of the scholarship. To request a deferral, prior to leaving Hussian College, the student should submit a letter requesting the scholarship be held for a specified period of time. The letter must include when the student is leaving, the date of return, and the reason for the deferment request. Our general policy is that scholarships can be held for up to two academic years if approved.

If a student completely withdraws from Hussian College prior to the close of the add/drop period, any scholarships will be canceled from the student's account.

If a student is named the recipient of a scholarship from a donor or source other than Hussian College, the scholarship must still be processed through the Financial Aid Office. Students and staff must direct donors to send the scholarship check to the Director of Finance at:

Director of Finance
Hussian College
1500 Spring Garden St.
Philadelphia, PA 19130

Please make sure the donor includes the recipient's name and instructions related to rules and regulations required of the recipient in order to receive the scholarship. The Director of Finance will send communication to the Financial Aid Office about these transactions. Once the check is received, it will be processed and put on the student's account in a timely manner, within approximately two weeks.

Cancellation and Refund Policy

STUDENT'S RIGHT TO CANCEL

1. All monies paid by an applicant will be refunded if the applicant requests to cancel their enrollment agreement through attendance at the first class session, or the seventh day after enrollment, whichever is later.
2. After the end of the cancellation period, you also have the right to stop school at any time; and you have the right to receive a prorated refund in accordance with the refund schedule detailed below.
3. To cancel this Enrollment Agreement, provide a written notice of cancellation to the following address: Hussian College, 1201 W. 5th St., Suite F-10, Los Angeles, CA 90017. This can be done by mail or hand delivery.
4. The written notice of cancellation, if sent by mail, is effective when deposited in the mail properly addressed with proper postage.
5. The written notice of cancellation need not take any particular form and, however expressed, it is effective if it shows that the student no longer wishes to be bound by the Enrollment Agreement.
6. In the unlikely event that an applicant has not visited the School prior to enrollment, they will have the opportunity to withdraw without penalty within 3 business days following either the regularly scheduled orientation procedures or following a tour of the School facilities and inspection of equipment where training and services are provided.
7. Refunds will be issued within forty-five (45) days.

Refund Schedule

Students whose last date of attendance falls after the drop/add period of the term but on or prior to completing 60% of the term are entitled to receive a pro-rated refund of the term's paid tuition and campus fee. The refund percentage will be calculated as follows:

- The College determines the per-day charge for the term by dividing the total term charges by the number of days in the term.
- The College will multiply the number of days completed through the withdrawal date by the per-day charge

Students whose last date of attendance falls after 60% of the term is completed are entitled to no refunds.

IMPORTANT NOTE: All monies to be refunded in accordance with any provisions of this Refund and Cancellation policy will be refunded within thirty (30) days from the date that Hussian College determines a student's last date of attendance, the date Hussian receives notice of cancellation, or the date that a student fails to return from an approved leave of absences. The Refund and Cancellation policy will apply equally to students that are administratively terminated from a Hussian program. All refunds shall be paid to the student unless payment to a lender or other entity is required by the terms of a student financial aid program in which Hussian participates.

RETURN OF FEDERAL STUDENT AID

The amount of Federal assistance that a student receives and is ultimately retained to cover institutional charges is dictated by Federal Regulations. After the student has attended for sixty (60%) percent of the semester, all Federal student aid received by or on behalf of the student may be retained to cover institutional charges. If a student withdraws from a semester prior to completing sixty (60%) percent of the semester, a pro-rata share of the Federal student aid received must be returned to the aid sources within forty-five (45) days of Hussian's determination of withdrawal, or formal written withdrawal by the student. To determine the amount of Federal aid to be retained to cover institutional charges, Hussian must divide the number of days of the semester up to and including the student's last day of attendance, by the total days in the semester. The resulting percentage will be used to determine the pro rata amount of Federal aid to be returned.

Federal student aid refunds must be made in the following priority order.

1. Unsubsidized Federal Direct Stafford Loan
2. Subsidized Federal Direct Stafford Loan
3. Federal Direct PLUS Loan
4. Federal Pell Grant
5. FSEOG
6. Other Federal student aid programs
7. Other Federal sources of aid
8. Other state, private, or institutional aid
9. The student

Students are strongly encouraged to check with school officials prior to officially or unofficially withdrawing. The US Department of Education has established a policy regarding the return of Title IV Funds in the event a student receiving these funds withdraws from school before completing the program.

- Funds are disbursed based on “payment periods.” Payment periods are typically based on the time it takes a student to earn or complete 12 financial aid credit hours.
- A financial aid credit hour represents a minimum of 30 clock hours of instruction. A full-time student taking three courses per session would normally complete 12 financial aid credit hours in 16 weeks.
- The Title IV funds that are disbursed are “earned” according to the percentage of time the student was enrolled during the payment period. The “unearned” portion must be returned by the College.
- The percentage is calculated up to the point a student reaches 60% of the payment period. After 60% the student is considered to have earned all, or 100% of the Title IV disbursement for the period, and none of the disbursed funds are required to be returned.
 - Example #1: A student receives $4264 of Title IV funds from Pell grants and student loans. The student withdraws after attending college for 3 ½ weeks, or 21.8%, of the 16-week payment period. The student is entitled to 21.8%, or $930, of the $4264 Award. The remaining $3334, must be returned.
 - Example #2: A student receives $4264 of Title IV funds from Pell grants and student loans. The student withdraws after attending college for 10 weeks, or 62.5%, of the 16-week payment period. The student is entitled to 100%, or $4264, of the $4264 Award. No funds have to be returned.

In the event a student withdraws prior to the disbursement of Title IV funds, loan eligibility earned but not yet disbursed will be offered to the withdrawn student within 30 days. Once the withdrawn student is notified, they will have 14 days to respond to either accept or decline the funds. Grants must be disbursed within 45 days.

Once a Return of Title IV calculation has been completed for a withdrawn student, the calculation may display either a credit balance owed to the student (or parent, if Federal PLUS loan) or a balance owed by the student. In the event where the withdrawn student has a credit balance on their account, the College will disburse the funds to the withdrawn student (or a parent, if a Federal PLUS loan) within 14 days after the Return of Title IV calculation is completed. If the Return of Title IV calculation results in an amount to be returned that exceeds the school’s portion, the student must repay the balance of those funds.

For Veteran Education Students

Students enrolling under Veterans Administration Benefits will be governed by the latest policies pertaining to Veterans Administration regulations.

Refund Policy for Veterans

See Return of Federal Student Aid.

General Education Curriculum

Objective

The general education courses have been designed to encourage life-long learning and to develop essential academic skills, critical thinking, and problem solving. They provide interdisciplinary perspectives on how human beings think, solve problems, express ideas, and create new knowledge and encompass areas such as arts and humanities, written communication, oral communication, social sciences, natural sciences, and mathematics. The courses place emphasis on principles and theory that are not associated with a particular professional path but have been created to enable students to make vital connections between their work-related contributions and various academic disciplines.

Structure

The general education program provides a scope of learning and knowledge building that provides ongoing intellectual development in the following academic areas:

- Communication
- Mathematics
- Arts and Humanities
- Natural Sciences
- Social and Behavioral Sciences

Within each subject area, students are challenged in the “soft skill” development of collaboration, critical thinking, problem solving, information literacy, and various forms of communication. Throughout the General Education curriculum students are challenged to increase their understanding of the scientific, physical and socio-political world around them. Students will be encouraged to understand the importance of self and the individual mind in valuing and empowering full participation in life through professional work, ongoing development, and engagement with their community. The College’s general education program is designed to prepare students holistically for their place in and contributions to society.

Outcomes and Requirements

While each course within the program has its own description, learning outcomes, and assessment rubrics, the program as a whole has a broad set of outcomes that inform and provide a framework for every course and within which the success of the student is assessed overall. Degree program students are required to complete no less than the number of general education credits required by College accreditation and/or regulatory authorities. General education credit requirements that are specific to each program are set forth in such programs’ separate requirements found in this catalog.

Undergraduate Degree Programs

BFA Acting

Our Acting Program combines immersive training in acting for film and television with an exclusive business and general education core developed with our industry partners. Students earn a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree over the course of eight semesters at our unique California campus while powerfully preparing for success in the professional entertainment industry. Acting students take comprehensive sequences in acting, voice and speech, movement, camera technique, stage combat, audition technique, and business. The faculty is comprised of industry professionals and leaders who are passionate about craft, discipline, professionalism, life balance, and artistic excellence. BFA Film + Digital Content

The Film + Digital Content program at Hussian College features an immersive, project-based curriculum taught by industry professionals on an active studio lot. Student filmmakers practice and develop their unique voices while concurrently studying established artists, past and present, in curated screening series and master classes. After building a foundation of core skills during the first two years, the curriculum opens up to allow for a variety of electives that support a path-to-industry focus on directing, screenwriting, producing, documentary, cinematography, or editing. Unique features of the program include an advanced directing project during the second year of the program, the opportunity to compete for funded, collaborative projects in year three, and a thesis-level capstone project in year four, which can be completed in the student's area of focus.

STUDENTS WHO COMPLETE THIS PROGRAM...

- Are powerfully prepared to pursue creative or producorial professional opportunities in the fields of film, television or digital content.
- Demonstrate a comprehensive understanding of the history of film, television and digital content, and their forms and genres.
- Demonstrate technical proficiency, professional decorum, and genuine artistry in any professional situation.
- Possess a well-rounded proficiency in all aspects of filmmaking, as well as a confidence in their abilities to integrate into professional workplaces, both on set and in an office setting.
- Enter the industry with a mentor-curated digital portfolio of creative work designed to advance their unique professional goals and ambitions.

Opportunities in Film and Digital Content

If filmmaking is your dream, acquiring Hussian College's BFA in Film and Digital Content not only equips you with the skills to pursue a professional path as a Producer, Director or Screenwriter, your acquired skills can also lead to work as a Camera Operator or Cinematographer, Editor, Postproduction Supervisor, or Assistant Editor, First- or Second Assistant Camera, Production Assistant, or Transcoder and Colorist. The industry knowledge you acquire at Hussian College could also provide a pathway to become an Entertainment Journalist or Media Critic, a Literary Agent, Artist's Manager, or Development Executive.

Undergraduate Course Descriptions

Acting Courses

ACT 113 | Stagecraft + Design Fundamentals [2 credits]

This course will teach the basics of live theatre production, theatre design basics, and technical production skills. This course will introduce students to; a practical approach to the technical and production aspects of live theatre production, as well as equip students with basic knowledge of the live theatre history and opportunities. Students will gain an understanding of the typical technical positions in a theatre, basic theatre technologies used in the industry, how the design process takes shape through a production schedule, and specific practical applications of skills in lighting, sound, scenery, costumes, and makeup by supporting the technical needs of Studio School's productions. Students will assist in the building, painting, and load-in of scenery and lights for a mainstage production. Prerequisites: None

ACT 121 | Filmcraft: Directing, Editing, Cinematography, Production Design [2 credits]

Film Craft is designed to give students a comprehensive introduction to the process of filmmaking and the associated roles, physical tools, and terminology. The course will examine all aspects of filmmaking from idea genesis and script development to pre-production, production design, physical production, post-production, and distribution. Film Craft will examine the roles and responsibilities of specific departments and those involved in the making of filmed content, including but not limited to the producer, director, editor, cinematographer, production designer, props, sound designer and colorist. Prerequisites: None

ACT 142 | Movement I: Alexander Technique [2 credits]

This course introduces students to the movement and voice work of F. M. Alexander. Students explore their own psychophysical habits of excess tension and collapse, and then consciously discover ways to find more efficient and healthful means of function and self-expression. Through one-on-one training with the instructor and partners, students discover how to heal, harmonize and harness their life force for more mindful, free, and powerful creative expression. Recognizing, managing, and overcoming Performance Anxiety will be a major theme. Prerequisites: None

ACT 145 | Acting I: Fundamentals [4 credits]

This course provides students a practical introduction to the foundational concepts and skills of on-camera acting. Rather than train students in a particular 'technique,' this course will introduce a basic awareness and freedom of expression that will be adaptable to any future study, production, or on-set demands. These skills will serve as the basis for not only future acting courses, but also as an essential foundation for the actor's progress in the world of professional performance. Prerequisites: None

ACT 152 | Stage Combat I: Unarmed + Single Sword [2 credits]

This course introduces actors to the concepts of fight choreography, starting with unarmed stage combat and progressing into single sword stage combat. Students will learn the mandatory rules for safe rehearsal processes, various unarmed techniques including slaps, punches, kicks, shoves, reactions, knaps, basic footwork, attacks, defense, blade etiquette, maintenance, and safety. Students will also learn responsible performances of unarmed and single sword fight choreography, as well as the techniques required to perform these scenes for both a live stage and filmed performance setting. Prerequisites: None

ACT 155 | Introduction to Scene Study [4 credits]

The course continues to develop the skills acquired in Acting 145 by putting them to use in the interpretation and active participation of scripted scene work. Moving beyond basic exercises, students will learn how vulnerability, receptivity, imagination, listening, and responding create full engagement in and embodiment of an author's text. This course will teach a basic approach to full immersion in a scene, which can then be applied to more complex texts and professional work. Prerequisites: ACT 145 Acting I: Fundamentals

ACT 158 | Introduction to Improvisation [2 credits]

This course introduces students to the foundational concepts of improvisation for the stage, with a focus on freeing the actor's imagination for full immersion into present time and present place. Through in-class exercises, games, and activities, students will become familiar with the essential concept of 'yes, and' as well as other basic 'rules' of improvisation. Students will learn to discover trust, collaboration, and embrace of failure in all of their work, both academic and professional. Prerequisites: ACT 145, ACT 155

ACT 159 | ACT Story Lab [1 credit]

In this discipline-specific lab that accompanies Story: Mediums + Genre, mentor-practitioners lead experiential learning workshops designed to give students a hands-on apprenticeship in handling the narrative challenges and opportunities that they will face in their professional practice. Prerequisites: None Corequisites: GED 101

ACT 211 | Theatre History [2 credits]

This course introduces students to the rich history of theatre and performance, including standard texts with which the working actor must be familiar. Students apply their text analysis skills in the context of global history and cultural shifts that demonstrate how theatre has reflected major religious, political, and social issues while establishing key trends. The range and depth of drama is explored from the Classical to modern world as a special emphasis on the ways in which drama was produced, staged, and acted are pursued. Tragedy (originating in religious choral odes) looks squarely at what makes us human and how people deal with horrendous circumstances. Comedy (developing out of fertility rituals) looks at how we best perpetuate ourselves and our communities.

This course encourages students to take initiative and develop independent, analytical thinking about dramatic texts through close and careful understanding. It focuses on learning techniques for taking a script and applying it to the craft of acting. Using a range of plays as source material we explore how to take a play apart to understand how it is put together in the context of its time. We practice the dramaturgical methodologies actors, directors, and designers need to employ prior to rehearsal to understand the bones of a dramatic text.

The class involves discussion, performance workshops, and lectures that explore the concrete dimensions of performance from the ancient to modern world. Developing a broader worldview, students empower their work specifically and meaningfully in the present. By the time we conclude, students should feel confident in their approach to any dramatic text they encounter and know how to begin exploring it on its own terms. Prerequisites: None Corequisites: ACT 253

This course aims to decenter white, masculine heterosexuality by introducing students both critical material and performance texts that challenge patriarchal, Eurocentric, and heteronormative narratives in American film, television, and theatre as well as within the performances of “everyday life.” This course juxtaposes theoretical readings, films, and plays that address portrayals of masculinity/ femininity, gendered hierarchies, and/or queer identity through African American, Latina/o American, and Asian American subject positions.

Prerequisites: None

ACT 222 | History of TV [2 credits]

Analysis of television as a medium of information, conveyor and creator of mass culture, and a form of aesthetic expression. Course examines the historical development of television as both a cultural product and an industry. Prerequisites: None

ACT 241 | Movement II: Dance for Actors [2 credits]

This course will provide the student with a solid foundation in theater dance vocabulary, focusing on period dance, ballroom dance and musical theatre dance for the actor – including both the recognition of different styles/periods and their physical demonstration in performance.

Prerequisites: ACT 142

ACT 114 | Viewpoints [2 credits]

This course is an introduction to the Viewpoints movement work developed by Mary Overlie and Anne Bogart. Using the Viewpoints framework, students will gain greater awareness of their physicality and its expressive potential. Through physical exploration and in-class group work, students will augment their range of expression with an introduction to the basic concepts of spatial awareness and kinesthetic response. Prerequisites: ACT 142

ACT 244 | Discovering Speech [2 credits]

The physical awareness gained through the works of Knight, Thompson, Fitzmaurice, Linklater, and Rodenburg will expand in this course into an awareness of the musculature of articulation and speech production. Students will play with and develop mastery of the muscles that produce speech, using games, exercises, partner explorations, and projects to feel (not just understand) how human speech is made. This course will introduce the International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA) and provide the foundation necessary to consciously and efficiently create professional-grade accents for performance.

Prerequisites: ACT 254

ACT 245 | Acting for Theatre [4 credits]

The course is designed to further the basic and more advanced acting skills the student developed in Acting 145 Acting I: Fundamentals and Acting 155 Intro to Scene Study. Drawing from the work of the world’s foremost acting teachers, with an emphasis on performing for the stage, the focus of the student will be on developing the techniques necessary to physically, vocally, and emotionally externalize their inner work using traditional stage techniques, some of which date back centuries. The actor will practice these techniques through the great English language plays and playwrights of the modern and contemporary eras. Prerequisites: ACT 145, ACT 155

ACT 248 | Improvising in Story [2 credits]

This course expands upon students’ fundamental improvisation skills and applies those skills to the creation of spontaneous and deeply imagined storytelling. Using the progression of skills, games, and exercises outlined by Viola Spolin, this course requires students to imagine with freedom, specificity, and detail. Students will discover how to harness the creative potential of unplanned, forward-moving stories while also taking their imaginative freedom to greater depths of personal expressivity. Prerequisites: ACT 145, ACT 155, ACT 158

ACT 250 | Hosting for Television I [2 credits]

In this course, students will get on-camera experience in various hosting situations. They will learn how to make their stage persona work effectively on camera. Students will work on interviewing skills and their personal brand—that is, finding how your style fits into the dynamic of on-air hosting situations. They will learn how to think on their feet and how to be comfortable under pressure, as well as learn key ways to memorize and break down host copy. Students will gain the experience in how to conduct a man-on-the-street interview and learn how to improvise in a hosting situation. Prerequisites: None

ACT 251 | Scene Study: Comedy [2 credits]

This course will explore various comedy genres such as sketch, improvisation, stand-up comedy, short form comedy, parody, physical comedy, satire, animated comedy, mask and clown, and many more. This course also continues to develop the skills acquired in Introduction to Scene Study, specifically focusing on the many comedic genres in film and television. Moving beyond basic exercises, students will learn the difference between multi-camera sitcom and single-camera comedy techniques. Prerequisites: ACT 145, ACT 155, ACT 158

ACT 252 | Stage Combat II: Broadsword + Rapier/ Dagger [2 credits]

This course re-introduces actors to and further educates on the concepts of fight choreography, starting with broadsword combat, and progressing into single rapier and dagger combat. Students will learn the mandatory rules for safe rehearsal processes, various sword fight techniques involved in choreography including cuts, thrusts, swipes, evades, executing and performing injuries, falls, basic footwork, attacks, defense, blade etiquette, maintenance and safety. Students will also learn responsible performances of broadsword and rapier/ dagger choreography, as well as the techniques required to perform these scenes for both a live stage and filmed performance setting. On set professionalism and the difference between performing for a live audience or a filmed environment will also be taught. Prerequisites: ACT 152

ACT 253 | Theatre History Lab [1 credit]

This is a physical extension of the Theatre History and Literature course. We will be exploring universal story-telling elements, historical theatre styles, and partial texts through movement, sound, gesture, and mask. Students will be trained in fundamentals of anatomy, alignment, basic movement vocabulary, and body shapes/body directions. Students will build on that understanding to create physical behavior and staging that illuminates the different periods of theatre history. Students will explore archetypal characters and dominant beliefs exhibited in the body through exercises, mask, and improvisation. Students will explore physical and vocal story-telling as an ensemble (Greek Chorus & Viewpoints), as archetypal characters (Commedia dell'arte, Shakespeare) and as a tool to connect their empathic imagination to their physical instrument. Prerequisites: None Corequisites: ACT 211

ACT 254 | Discovering Breath [2 credits]

This course will introduce students to a heightened awareness of breath and its role in the actor's art. Exploring breath in the body will encourage the student to find presence, both to self and partners. This course will explore breath and vocal production with increasing freedom, using the techniques of Catherine Fitzmaurice and Kristin Linklater. Through awareness and relaxation, breath will become a powerful mode of expression that is tapped into the personal truth of the actor. Prerequisites: None

ACT 255 | Becoming the Character [4 credits]

This course combines the imaginative freedom gained through improvisation with the contextual clues gained through rigorous text analysis. By combining these two skill sets, students in this course will discover how to bring vibrant, detailed, and imaginative life to the demands of the text and performance. Through exercises, guided meditation, and improvisational scenarios, students will build specific beliefs in the worlds created by playwrights and screenwriters, producing a dynamic harmony between actor and author. Prerequisites: ACT 145, ACT 155

ACT 256 | Solo Performance [2 credits]

Solo Performance is a class designed to be a laboratory for students to create, nurture, and perform work that is sourced from their own personal groundswell of creativity and imagination. As storytellers, artists need to constantly be challenged to revisit their own personal why: why they are storytellers in the first place, and the methodology with which they approach creative expression. With discussion, warmup and movement, solo practice, and allotted practice time, students will engage in critical analysis of social and historical human-interest themes: what matters to them personally and what role their work has in the world at large. Using all forms of storytelling mediums including, but not limited to, acting, text, music, dance, movement, clown, mask, and media, students will utilize their creativity to create and perform original work that challenges, inspires, and elevates their platform as artists. Prerequisites: ACT 145, ACT 155

ACT 257 | Stand Up Comedy [2 credits]

This course will help the student acquire the basic techniques of comedy writing, presentation, and performance, with the added bonus of performing in front of an audience at the end of the semester. Students will understand the concept of comic persona and be able to identify their own learned, practical tools for writing comedy. They will also learn to rhythmically construct material that compliments their comic persona. They will be taught basic microphone and stage presentation techniques to highlight and punctuate their material. By the semester's end they will have experienced performing and testing out material on a regular basis in front of classmates and industry professionals. Prerequisites: ACT 145, ACT 155, ACT 158

ACT 337 | Exploring Dramatic Texts [2 credits]

This course provides students with a thorough understanding of script analysis and dramaturgy. Students will learn how to approach texts systematically and with attention to detail, thereby enriching their ability to translate those texts into embodied performances. Students will focus on the structure of story, the importance of context, awareness of tone/style/genre, the necessity of research, and the application of this knowledge to modern texts. This course serves as an essential foundation for the complexities of professional performances. Prerequisites: ACT 145, ACT 155, ACT 159, GED 101

ACT 340 | Directing for the Stage [2 credits]

This course explores the process of directing plays for the stage. Studio exercises develop skills in key areas; interpretation of form and artistic intent, perception and sensibility in rehearsal, effective communication with actors, and balancing the interplay between action and text. Special emphasis is placed on the role of dramaturgical understanding in the creation of meaningful stage action. Prerequisites: ACT 145, ACT 155, ACT 245, ACT 255

ACT 341 | Clowning + Masks [2 credits]

Using the body to find essential gesture, action, and expression, participants discover and develop their own art. The body recognizes and can represent everything that moves. It is the prime element in the journey from life to the theatre. In Clown, we embark on the wondrous journey to rediscover innocence and uncover the pleasure of play. It is a daring adventure, in which we open our fragile hearts in search of fun. The little red nose (the smallest mask) is a great liberator. It requires generosity and summons transparency, revealing us in all of our wonderful and complicated simplicity. In Mask, we generate energy, size, and presence. The mask work guides us to eliminate habitual patterns, encouraging clarity of movement and a greater command of stillness. Prerequisites: ACT 158, ACT 248

ACT 344 | Mastering Speech + Phonetics I [2 credits]

This course prepares students for the application of physical awareness to the demands of speech as it exists in the world. Through practical experience, projects, listening, and mimicry, students will translate their physical understanding of speech into the language of phonetics. Students will further explore the International Phonetic Alphabet, its uses, its limitations, and its versatility for performance purposes. From this base, students will begin to explore accents with personal truth and technical proficiency. Prerequisites: ACT 244, ACT 254

ACT 345 | Camera Techniques [4 crédits]

This course expands on the unique opportunities and demands placed upon the actor's art by the camera. Students will rediscover the role that camera plays in motion picture performance, a familiarity with on-set protocol and organization, and how their process fits into a working film set. Students will further explore genre, tone, and style in the current film and television landscape. Students will have practical experience performing in front of a camera, with detailed review and analysis of the growth and challenges in their personal creative process. This course continues to develop the techniques and comprehensive disciplines discovered in Musical Theatre Performance I and is required for interpreting the musical theatre song repertoire. Moving beyond basic concepts, it is designed to invoke a deeper level of script, score and character analysis necessary for successful song interpretation by the actor in musical theatre. Prerequisites: MTH 130

MTH 154 | Private Voice I [1 credit]

This is a weekly private voice lesson designed to fortify the foundational techniques introduced in MTH 146. The curriculum focuses mainly on vocal health, overall principles, vocal modes, sound color, and common effects like vibrato and air. The student and the instructor will address individual concerns and goals, work on solo repertoire, and develop a daily vocal exercise regimen. Prerequisites: MTH 146

MTH 156 | Vocal Styles + Private Voice [1 credit]

This is a group voice class that is accompanied by individual private lessons. Students explore a variety of popular musical genres and examine the vocal techniques associated with those styles. This class moves beyond foundational voice production and into more advanced application of vocal modes, sound color, and vocal effects. Prerequisites: MTH 244 or departmental approval Corequisites: MTH 254

MTH 158 | Contemporary [1 credit]

This course introduces students to the dynamic capabilities of the body as a means of expression through dance. Students will learn the basic concepts and skills of contemporary dance, which combines ballet, modern, and jazz. Classwork develops efficient alignment, strength, flexibility, coordination, rhythm, dynamics, and spatial awareness. Prerequisites: None

MTH 159 | Musical Theatre Story Lab [1 credit] Script and score analysis are an essential part of any musical theatre performer's career. In this course, students explore character and make skillful creative decisions regarding musical theatre production. Prerequisites: None

MTH 220 | Music Theory + Keyboard Skills II [2 credits]

This course is a continuation of the curriculum from its prerequisite, Music Theory + Keyboard Skills I. In this course, students advance their reading, playing, and theory competency to include more complex rhythms, compound intervals, seventh chords, and minor keys. They will also learn to sight-read basic melodies in major and minor. Prerequisites: MTH 120 or Departmental Approval

MTH 241 | Ballet III (Musical Theatre) [1 credit]

This course will further expand the student's ballet vocabulary and technique, exploring complex barre combinations and more advanced turns and jumps. Students will be able to identify, define, and execute classical ballet terms as well as memorize and execute intermediate ballet combinations. Prerequisites: MTH 151 or Assessment/Departmental Approval

MTH 242 | Tap II [1 credit]

This course continues the learning and practice of fundamental tap technique including warm-up, rhythmic combinations, vocabulary, counting, across the floor, change-of-weight skills, and rhythmic control. Students will cultivate personal creativity within tap dance, preparing them for tap dance in the professional realm. Prerequisites: MTH 152 or Assessment/Departmental Approval

MTH 244 | Private Voice II [1 credit]

This is a weekly private voice lesson designed to build upon the foundational techniques introduced in previous classes. The curriculum focuses mainly on expanding range, improving vocal dexterity, and honing artistic application of modes, sound color, and common effects. The student and instructor will address individual concerns and goals, work on solo repertoire, and develop a daily vocal exercise regimen. Prerequisites: MTH 154

MTH 245 | Guitar Skills [2 credits]

This is an introductory course designed to teach foundational guitar skills, including stringing, tuning, strumming, picking, chord shapes, singing while playing, and more.

Prerequisites: MTH 120 or departmental approval

MTH 246 | Jazz Funk [1 credit]

This course focuses on the learning and practice of fusing classical jazz technique with hip hop styles and pop culture influences. Students will learn jazz funk choreography, incorporating highly syncopated rhythms and intricate dance movements. Prerequisites: None

MTH 249 - Musical Theatre Dance II [1 credit]

Students will continue to practice and become more comfortable with the fundamental elements of musical theatre and jazz dance techniques. Emphasis in this course is on memorization of combinations as well as creating and maintaining performance quality while dancing. Students begin to learn repertoire from the musical theatre dance canon. Prerequisites: MTH 149 or Assessment/Departmental Approval

MTH 250 | Songwriting [2 credits]

This course is for those interested in the process of songwriting (or composition). Students will learn the various ways songs are structured, how to create a melody and a chord progression, methods for writing lyrics, basic notational practices, and the ways in which music theory can be used to elicit human emotions. Throughout the semester students will compose a series of original pieces. Prerequisites: MTH 120 or departmental approval

MTH 251 | Ballet IV (Musical Theatre) [1 credit]

In this course students will continue the study of classical ballet technique, incorporating partnering and more complex variations. Students will focus on the application of classical ballet technique to classical and contemporary ballet repertoire. Prerequisites: MTH 241 or Assessment/Departmental Approval

MTH 230 | Musical Theatre Performance III [2 credits]

Musical Theatre Performance III introduces skills related to performing with a scene partner, transitioning between dialogue and singing, and working with musical theatre pieces for two to four singers. In MTH 130 and MTH 135, students have developed their ability to perform as a soloist with both contemporary and older material. This class builds upon that foundation by expanding the range of elements on stage and empowering the students with the skills to craft performances on their own. It also serves as a bridge into the ensemble repertoire and complex environment of MTH 235. Prerequisites: MTH 135

MTH 254 | Vocal Styles + Private Voice Lab [1 credit]

This is a private voice lesson that accompanies the Vocal Styles group class. Each week students meet with a voice instructor to further develop the skills introduced, address individual concerns and goals, and work on solo repertoire. Prerequisites: MTH 244 Corequisites: MTH 156

MTH 235 | Musical Theatre Performance IV [2 credits]

Musical Theatre Performance IV focuses on the techniques necessary for working with other performers on stage. The repertoire consists of duets, trios, quartets, and larger ensemble pieces from musical theatre. Students will discover how to share the performance space with others and adapt their skills as a lead soloist to supporting and ensemble roles. Production elements aim to simulate professional theatrical settings by incorporating props, costumes, set pieces, scenes into songs, and professional practices. A final showcase is presented at the end of the semester. Prerequisites: MTH 230

CDN 259 | Ballroom [1 credit]

This course explores techniques of ballroom dance focusing mainly on the categories of the ritualistic lead and follow of Argentine tango, international Latin and American smooth while exploring aspects of American rhythm, international standard and American night club. Students will learn and apply the correct technique and terminology to expand their knowledge and understanding of these dance styles. This course provides students with a comprehensive overview of the ballroom dance world to better prepare them for what is currently being used in the commercial dance industry. Prerequisites: MTH 141

MTH 341 | Ballet V [1 credit]

In Ballet V, students will continue to expand their knowledge and proficiency in ballet by learning more advanced petit allegro, grand allegro, and jumping/turning combinations. This course will also focus on the execution of ballet variations and provide further understanding of classic works. Prerequisites: MTH 251 or Assessment/Departmental Approval

MTH 344 | Private Voice III [1 credit]

Equipped with an array of vocal techniques, students are now able to utilize this versatility to further liberate their musical expression. In Private Voice III, students will begin working with more advanced vocal skills such as melodic embellishment and improvisation. Students develop musical nuance and range to begin establishing a unique artistic voice. Prerequisite: MTH 156 or departmental approval

MTH 330 | New Musical Theatre + Cabaret [2 credits]

In this junior-level performance class, students explore the latest material from contemporary musical theatre composers and stand-alone, or “cabaret,” pieces and craft an original, fully-realized performance based on the source material available. Students will employ recontextualization and personalization as they work on performing in a cabaret setting. This class incorporates microphone technique (both live and studio) and students create a high-quality demo recording of a musical theatre song recorded in the school's Advanced Production Lab. Prerequisites: MTH 159 and MTH 235

MTH 349 - Musical Theatre Dance III [1 credit]

In this course, students will explore complex musical theatre dance combinations and repertoire. Continued emphasis is placed on memorization of material and creating and maintaining performance quality while dancing. Students learn and perform repertoire from the musical theatre dance canon and add a singing element to their dance performances. Prerequisites: MTH 249 or Assessment/Departmental Approval

MTH 351 - Ballet VI [1 credit]

Students in this course will continue to expand their knowledge and execution of classical ballet technique. Focus is placed on performance quality while executing ballet combinations and smoothing movement transitions. Prerequisites: MTH 341 or Assessment/Departmental Approval

MTH 354 | Private Voice IV [1 credit]

Private Voice IV demands a high level of proficiency and accuracy from the singer. In this class, students will focus on vocal precision and dexterity. Students will work with their private instructor on honing and synthesizing all skills accumulated thus far, and further develop their unique artistic voice. Prerequisites: MTH 344

MTH 335 | Rock, Pop + Other Genres [2 credits]

In this class, students will apply their knowledge of musical theatre performance to a variety of music genres and songs not originally written for musical theatre. Students will experience performing in a concert setting, further hone their microphone technique, and record a high-quality demo of a non-musical theatre song in the school's Advanced Production Lab.

Prerequisites: MTH 159 and MTH 256

MTH 370 | Producing Your Own Work [3 credits]

This course teaches students to gain a deeper understanding of the producer's role in the creation of new work. Students work with a charity or company to learn and execute all aspects of producing a live event inclusive of budgeting, working with venues, ticket sales, choreography, and marketing. This course emphasizes creative, entrepreneurial, and holistic producing practices. Prerequisites: None

MTH 420 | Professional Practice I [2 credits]

This course draws from the entire academic experience so students can craft a powerful 2-year action plan that supports their personal and professional goals upon graduation. Students will define measurable objectives and formulate actionable strategies to achieve them. Students will be expected to define their unique personal brand, style, and professional interests. Additionally, students will design branded business collateral—business cards, websites, reels, headshots, social media pages, and more—prior to graduation to support their professional launch.

Prerequisites: Senior-level CMTF Major or Departmental Approval

MTH 430 | Professional Practice II [2 credits]

This is part two of the Professional Practice curriculum in which students continue the goals and objectives of the previous course. The course will culminate in a performance that showcases students' talents and abilities for industry professionals. Prerequisites: MTH 420

MTH 444 | Private Voice V [1 credit]

Private Voice V marks the beginning of the final year at Hussian College as well as the process of preparing for and transitioning into a career in the arts. In this semester, students begin taking a more holistic approach to their craft, examining the various ways a singer's individual artistic expression is symbiotically linked to the individual themselves. Prerequisites: MTH 354

MTH 454 | Private Voice VI [1 credit]

In this final semester, students prepare to enter the business of performing arts, bridging their artistry and professionalism by establishing an ethos that will set them up for success in the industry. Curriculum focuses on supporting the work done in MTH 481 as well as creating a plan for success as a vocalist beyond graduation. Prerequisites: MTH 444

MTH 481 | Musical Theatre Industry Showcase [3 credits]

Students will work with a team of faculty members to craft a fully-produced showcase attended by industry professionals - agents, managers, casting directors, and more. This showcase represents the culmination of students' entire academic career and a demonstration of their unique abilities as a musical theatre performer. Prerequisites: MTH 420 Corequisites: MTH 430

Film + Digital Content Courses

FDC 110 | Intro to Editing [3 credits]

Hands-on basic introduction to the essential software tools, editing techniques and aesthetics of picture editing. Students will edit raw footage provided to them from a variety of genre sequences to see how story arc and characters are developed through editing choices, and how an editor uses pacing and shot selection to create drama and emotional impact. Prerequisites: none.

FDC 123 | Film Aesthetics [3 credits]

An introduction to the study of film. This course acquaints students with the narrative and aesthetic elements of cinema, the terminology governing Film & Digital Content, and the lines of critical inquiry that have been developed for the medium. The objective of the course is to equip students with the necessary skills to read films as trained and informed viewers and practitioners by raising their awareness of the development and complexities of the cinema. Prerequisites: None

FDC 124 | Screening Series - Fall [1 credit]

This course explores a single, significant period, movement, or genre in film history. It is one part of an eight-semester series constituting a broad survey of the history of motion pictures. Prerequisites: None

FDC 150 | Intro to Producing Film [3 credits]

This course provides students with a foundational understanding of the essential producing principles and practices necessary to complete all basic filmmaking projects while matriculating in the program, including pre-production, budgeting, scheduling, work-for-hire agreements, permits, insurance, rights, and casting resources. Prerequisites: None

FDC 152 | Screenwriting: The Short Film [3 credits]

This introductory course explores the foundation of screenwriting, concentrating on fundamental story concepts and screenplay format. Students will learn about conflict, narrative structure, dialogue, and rewriting. Prerequisites: FDC 159

FDC 153 | Directing Actors [2 credits]

This course provides filmmakers with a practical introduction to the foundational concepts and skills of acting, with an additional emphasis on the fundamentals of collaborating with actors as a director, producer, or writer. Rather than train students in a particular acting 'technique,' this course will introduce a basic awareness and freedom of expression that will be adaptable to any future study, production, or on-set demands. These skills will serve as the basis for understanding how actors prepare a role, take adjustments from the director, and collaborate with filmmakers to achieve a shared and common goal in performance. Prerequisites: None

FDC 159 | Story: Mediums + Genres Lab [1 credit]

In this discipline-specific lab that accompanies Stories, Mediums and Genres, mentor-practitioners lead experiential learning workshops designed to give students a hands-on apprenticeship in handling the narrative challenges and opportunities that they will face in their professional practice. Prerequisites: None Corequisites: GED 159

FDC 160 | Directing: Foundation [3 credits]

This course provides a basic introduction to the art and discipline of storytelling through the directing process, with emphasis on the fundamentals of visualizing the story and directing the camera and actor. Students will learn the fundamentals of film language and visual storytelling by engaging in numerous in-class exercises, workshops, and labs to help them learn how to collaborate with actors and other filmmakers. Prerequisites: None

FDC 172 | Cinematography I [3 credits]

Hands-on introduction to the essential production tools of filmmaking. This course provides students with a foundational understanding of all basic on-set equipment necessary to complete filmmaking exercises while matriculating in the program including digital video cameras, sound equipment, and basic lighting elements. Best practices for on-set workflow, crew positions, and professionalism will also be addressed. Prerequisites: None

FDC 230 | Studies in Film Genre [3 credits]

This advanced film studies course brings a dynamic perspective to film genres, viewing them not as static classifications but as dynamic expressions of the human experience. This is an essential tool not only for marketing your film, but also for moving your audience. Film Noir, Western, Slasher, and Cult Films will all be explored. Prerequisites: FDC 123

FDC 241 | Screenwriting: Developing the Feature I [3 credits]

This two-part screenwriting course will explore techniques for creating compelling, well-structured feature length narrative screenplays. In Developing the Feature I, students will select, analyze and create the main building blocks used to develop strong narrative storytelling and learn outlining techniques for their first feature-length script, as well as complete the first act of that script. In Developing the Feature II, students will complete Acts 2 and 3 and explore the impact of deep characterization on plot and structure. Prerequisites: FDC 152

FDC 243 | Editing [3 credits]

This course explores the theory, techniques and aesthetics of picture editing. Hands on editing practice will be integrated with analysis and discussion of films with close attention to story arc, how characters are developed and crafted through editing choices, and how an editor uses pacing, shot selection, sounds, and music to create drama and emotional impact. Prerequisites: FDC 262

FDC 252 | Screenwriting: Developing the Feature II [3 credits]

This course expands on previous coursework requiring students to complete Acts 2 and 3 of their feature-length screenplay. Students will explore aspects of well-structured scripts that include characterization, surprises, reversals, sacrifice, the power of a protagonist's decisions, loss, and the emotional impact of their stories. Students will also experience the importance of re-writing, and learn how to incorporate professional industry feedback. Prerequisites: FDC 241

FDC 262 | Directing the Short Film [4 credits]

In the first part of the semester, students will be in pre-production on their original short narrative projects. Lectures will aid in strengthening pre-production choices. For the rest of the semester, students direct the principal photography and supervise post-production of their narrative project, as well as serve as crew in the production of other students' projects. Prerequisites: FDC 152 and FDC 160

FDC 261 | Writing for Advertising [3 credits]

Writing advertisement is a course focusing on the creative aspects of advertising. Through this process students will learn how to research for information on both product and consumer, and apply this information in developing campaign strategy. Students will learn to write advertising messages for print and broadcast, design print layouts, and the various social media platforms. Prerequisites: None

FDC 272 | Cinematography II [3 credits]

Building on the fundamentals taught in Cinematography I, this intermediate level course explores all aspects of cinematography with a focus on the practical challenges of lighting under varied real-world conditions. Aesthetics of cinematography, safe practices of camera, grip and electric work, the visual effect of different film lenses, camera blocking, color timing, and advanced camera movement will all be addressed. Prerequisites: FDC 172

FDC 273 | Directing: Documentary [3 credits]

This course teaches students to look at their world and to develop their ability to create compelling and dramatic stories in which real people are the characters and real life is the plot. Through close study and analysis of feature length and short documentaries coupled with hands-on directing, shooting, sound-recording, editing, and re-editing, students will rigorously explore the possibilities and the power of non-fiction storytelling. Prerequisites: FDC 160

FDC 320 | Film History and Criticism [3 credits]

This class will introduce and examine key authors, debates, texts, and contexts in aesthetic film criticism and cultural theories of film and media. Prerequisites: FDC 123

FDC 321 | Topics in Screenwriting [3 credits]

This course will offer concentrated study, practice, and understanding of specific aspects of the creative process of screenwriting. Students will integrate insights from the course into a project they are working on. Individual course units include the participation of leading members of the film and television professions. Prerequisites: FDC 252

FDC 322 | Topics in Film Producing [3 credits]

This course will offer concentrated study and practice of specific aspects of the producer's role in managing a project, from the inception of the idea, to developing, pitching, selling, and final release/airing. Students will integrate insights from the course into a project they are working on. Individual course units include the participation of leading members of the film and television professions. Prerequisites: FDC 150

FDC 323 | Topics in Film Production [3 credits]

This course will offer a concentrated study and practice of specific aspects of physical production, analysis of procedure, problem solving, budgets, and planning for film and television production. Students will integrate insights from the course into a project they are producing. Individual course units include the participation of leading members of the film and television professions. Prerequisites: FDC 262

FDC 324 | Topics in Post-Production [3 credits]

This course will offer a concentrated study and understanding of specific aspects of post-production: choosing music or a composer, music editing, sound design, design opportunities, integrating sound effects, how to edit dialogue, prep for Automatic Dialogue Replacement and Foley sessions, and supervising the final sound mix. Students will integrate insights from the course into a project they are working on. Individual course units include the participation of leading members of the film and television professions. Prerequisites: FDC 243

FDC 325 | Branded Content [3 credits]

An examination of contemporary production studies, research, and transmedia practices, including innovations in marketing, licensing, distribution, industrial organization, creative work, new technologies, and evolving relations between fans and producers in a digital economy. Prerequisites: FDC 262

FDC 326 | Script Analysis [3 credits]

This course provides instruction and practice in script coverage, understanding character, making resonant aesthetic choices for enhancing cinematic storytelling, and creating character actions, adjustments, and blocking strategies for eliciting the best possible performance from actors. The unit on professional script coverage teaches students to evaluate the quality and viability of a screenplay, write a synopsis, create character breakdowns, structural analyses, and craft final recommendations. Prerequisites: FDC 252

FDC 340 | Advanced Production [3 credits]

Guided by current industry professionals and using relevant case studies, this course explores the opportunities and challenges producers face in an evolving media landscape. Producer-mentors will share behind-the-scenes looks, nuances of the craft, and tricks of the trade and advice on breaking into the business, as well as training students in the problem-solving and business skills necessary to succeed. Prerequisites: FDC 262

FDC 341 | Advanced Screenwriting [3 credits]

In this course students will pitch, develop, draft, and revise a second original feature length screenplay in the space of a single semester. Building upon previous coursework and script development, students expand their portfolio of original work to create vital creative capital for potential production in final projects. Prerequisites: FDC 252

FDC 342 | Expanding Narratives [3 credits]

This course attempts to chart the history of the now: what kinds of stories are now possible in the new media? What are the elements of traditional narrative that still apply to new media? The Internet and other new media provide seemingly limitless possibilities for creative expression. Students will delve into areas of individual interest and try to find forms of expression which speak to them and to the larger cultural community as well. Prerequisites: GED 159

FDC 343 | Independent Doc Production [3 credits]

The intermediate level course focuses on the planning, creating, and executing of an independent documentary film project that is not only impactful but also creates revenue. Prerequisites: FDC 273

FDC 344 | The Indie Feature [3 credits]

While it is vitally important to know how to work in the professional environment of high-end feature films, filmmakers tend to have lower budgets when creating their first feature. This course is designed to give directors, writers, and producers the skills they need to help greenlight their own feature films after graduation. Case-studies, industry guests, and hands-on, practical assignments are used to impart their expert insights and collaborative innovation techniques necessary to meet this key filmmaking challenge. Prerequisites: FDC 260

FDC 345 | Director's Workshop [3 credits]

Master class workshops focusing on specific facets of directing single-camera productions, and providing opportunities for students to rehearse, produce, and evaluate scenes for single-camera production. Individual course units include the participation of leading members of the film and television professions. Prerequisites: FDC 262

FDC 349 | Applied Cinematography: Color Grading [3 credits]

This course provides in-depth apprenticeship in the art and technology of advanced color grading. Students will master all of the controls modern color correction software provides to refine mood, create style, add polish to scenes, and breathe life into visuals. Prerequisites: FDC 272

FDC 350 | Documentary Tradition [3 credits]

A comprehensive study of the forms, aesthetics, and history of the documentary film tailored to the needs of advanced students apprenticing in this dynamic discipline. An overview of documentary film from the 1920s to present day. Building on the critical analysis tools gained in foundational film studies classes, this course will immerse young documentarians in the living history of their art form as a wellspring of inspiration and guiding force for their aspirations. Prerequisites: FDC 273

FDC 351 | Screenwriting: Adaptation [3 credits]

This course aims to provide students with the necessary knowledge and skills to adapt intellectual property into scripts for film and television. Students will learn about different sources of literary material, from graphic novels to magazine articles, how to secure their rights and adapt them for the screen. Prerequisites: FDC 252

FDC 352 | Production Design [3 credits]

This intermediate level course focuses on the vital role of production design in the overall cinematic experience. Through screenings, discussions, and hands on exercises, students will develop their vision, learn to effectively communicate it both visually and verbally to other members of the production team, and gain a working knowledge of what it takes to fulfill this vision including set design, construction, script breakdowns, scheduling, on-set art direction, and decoration. Prerequisites: None

FDC 353 | Capstone Development [3 credits]

The goal of this advanced course is to develop the directing student's skills in all phases of idea creation, pitching, and development of their screenplay for Capstone projects. Prerequisites: FDC 262

FDC 355 | Producing Digital Media [3 credits]

As the landscape of digital media rapidly shifts from the movie theater to more personal and portable distribution systems, understanding the changing role of the producer in the new media paradigm is important to the next generation of content creators. Students will study digital media in all of its current and developing forms, as well as the numerous distribution avenues available for content delivery. Students will fund, create, and distribute next-generation digital media productions of their own. Prerequisites: FDC 260

FDC 356 | Digital Foundation 2D/3D [3 credits]

This course covers the foundational tools necessary to begin the journey from concept drawing to fully realized VFX production. Students are introduced to the primary tools of 2D and 3D design - Adobe Photoshop and Autodesk Maya - and mentored through developing an innovative portfolio of creative work. Prerequisites: None

FDC 360 | Applied Cinematography: Fiction [3 credits]

This advanced seminar is a comprehensive practicum in the technology, techniques, workflow, and aesthetics specific to episodic television and feature filmmaking. Students will work with industry professionals in real-world learning environments to develop their craft, create their reels, and foster mentorship relationships. Prerequisites: FDC 272

FDC 362 | Socially Conscious Filmmaking [3 credits]

An in-depth examination of social issue filmmaking and non-profit organizations. Emphasis will be placed on current social issues that can be addressed through the powerful medium of documentary filmmaking. Prerequisites: FDC 273

FDC 363 | Commercials + Music Videos [3 credits]

This course will explore two specialized forms of production: music videos and commercials, including spot advertisements developed by advanced screenwriting students in their Writing for Advertising course. In technology and film craft, these purpose-driven shorts have much in common with theatrical features. Yet the creative challenges they pose are often uniquely different. Projects produced for this class will add innovative commercial content to students' creative portfolios. Prerequisites: FDC 262

FDC 364 | Producing: Producer's Perspective [3 credits]

This course is a comprehensive critical analysis of contemporary entertainment industries and practical approaches to understanding and implementing the producer's role in development of feature film and television scripts. Through scholarly and trade journal readings, in-class discussions, script analysis, and select guest speakers, students will explore the complex role of the creative producer, and also the proper technique for evaluating screenplays and teleplays for aesthetic or commercial potential. Prerequisites: FDC 150

FDC 365 | Directing: Experimental [3 credits]

An intermediate production course in which students experiment with non-narrative approaches to content, structure, technique, and style. Themes and orientations include many possibilities, such as music, choreography, visual or audio art, investigations of rhythm, color, shape, and line; poetry, fragmentation and collage, abstraction, performance; and subversion of linear narrative and documentary conventions. Prerequisites: FDC 262

FDC 366 | Producing for VFX [3 credits]

This course explores the production environment of Visual Effects. From summer blockbusters to independent art films, VFX have become a vital tool in the production process of modern filmmaking. This course opens the door to the modern visual effects production pipeline. Students learn first-hand how to breakdown a script for VFX, budget and schedule that breakdown, and implement all elements into a successful VFX pipeline. Prerequisites: FDC 110

FDC 370 | Television Series Spec [3 credits]

In this course students structure an outline and write scenes with dialogue all inspired by and respecting the conventions of their chosen show. The class covers both half-hour sitcoms and one-hour shows. Prerequisites: FDC 252

FDC 371 | Applied Cinematography: Non-Fiction [3 credits]

This advanced seminar is a comprehensive practicum in the technology, techniques, workflow, and aesthetics specific to documentary film and reality television. Students will work with industry professionals in real-world learning environments to develop their craft, create their reels, and foster mentorship relationships. Prerequisites: FDC 272 and FDC 273

FDC 372 | Film Festivals & Distribution [3 credits]

Art does not exist in a vacuum. Making a great film is a huge accomplishment, but as a producer, your responsibility is to make sure your film connects to an audience. This course will educate students about the film festival process, how a producer identifies key audience demographics, the main tenets of a successful guerrilla marketing campaign, and ultimately the distribution options available to you as you strive to get your film seen. Prerequisites: None

FDC 373 | Feature Film Case Study [3 credits]

This course offers a true behind-the-scenes look at how a feature film gets produced.

The goal is that students can apply what they have been learning to the production process of a finished, successful film. They will be able to have a dialogue with the film's producers as well, thereby making the information more tangible and easier to truly absorb. Prerequisites: None

FDC 380 | Editing the Documentary [3 credits]

The documentary is often described, and for good reason, as an editor's medium. Life provides no script, so it's in editing that the narrative must first be discovered and then fully expressed. This course will provide opportunity to finalize their edit for their Advanced Documentary project. Prerequisites: FDC 243

FDC 381 | Documentary: Research, Ethics & Methodologies [3 credits]

Students will gain a comprehensive understanding into investigative techniques used to tell non-fiction stories. Connecting purpose to practice, the course will also train students in the unique research tools, legal background, and production methodologies necessary to complete an advanced documentary project. Prerequisites: FDC 273

FDC 426 | Professional Practice I [3 credits]

This course draws on the entire academic experience so that filmmakers can craft a powerful 2-year action plan that supports their personal and professional goals upon graduation. Students will define measurable objectives and formulate actionable strategies to achieve them. All students are expected to define their unique personal brand, style, and professional interests. Additionally, students will design branded business collateral prior to graduation to support their professional launch such as business cards, websites, reels, portfolio samples, social media pages, and more. Prerequisites: FDC 262

FDC 430 | Professional Practice II [2 credits]

This course continues to draw on the entire academic experience so that filmmakers can craft a powerful 2-year action plan that supports their personal and professional goals upon graduation. Students will define measurable objectives and formulate actionable strategies to achieve them. All students are expected to define their unique personal brand, style, and professional interests. Additionally, students will design branded business collateral prior to graduation to support their professional launch such as business cards, websites, reels, portfolio samples, social media pages and more. This course is both the study and the application of leadership, management, and production as they relate to event planning for sports events and athletic competitions, including games, exhibitions, and other live events, as well as non-annual events such as the Olympics and The World Games. Topics studied include venues, event marketing and promotion, athlete and representative interaction, security, and production of professional sports events. Additionally, students learn roles and responsibilities as producers, associate producers, and production managers for sports broadcasts. Prerequisites: FDC 150, EPS 223

EPS 443 | Topics in Entrepreneurship I [3 credits]

This upper level course provides an opportunity for students to gain in-depth knowledge in emerging markets, technologies, and business practices that are transforming content industries today. Students are expected to actively participate in subject matter research, presentations, and outreach to industry leaders and subject matter experts who are thought leaders in the fields studied. Prerequisites: Approval of Program Chair

EPS 447 | Capstone Project I [3 credits]

This is an experiential course in which students will apply concepts from previous coursework to develop a business plan for a new business venture. The business plan will include all aspects necessary to attract potential buyers or funders. Industry experts will serve as the audience for the final presentation and will provide feedback to students. Prerequisites: Approval of Program Chair

EPS 449 | Professional Practice I [2 credits]

This course draws on the entire academic experience so that entrepreneurs can craft a powerful 2-year action plan that supports their personal and professional goals upon graduation. Students will define measurable objectives and formulate actionable strategies to achieve them. All students are expected to define their unique personal brand, style, and professional interests. Additionally, students will design branded business collateral prior to graduation to support their professional launch such as business cards, websites, reels, portfolio samples, social media pages, and more. Prerequisites: Approval of Program Chair

EPS 452 | Topics In Entrepreneurship II [3 credits]

This upper level course provides an opportunity for students to gain in-depth knowledge in emerging markets, technologies, and business practices transforming content industries today. Students are expected to actively participate in subject matter research, in-class presentations, and industry leader outreach to subject matter experts providing thought leadership in the fields studied. Prerequisites: Approval of Program Chair

EPS 457 | Capstone Project II [3 credits]

This course builds on Capstone Project I. The business plan completed in that course will be revised with Instructor and mentor input and key start up phases will be initiated. Curricular focus shifts from research and ideation to the practical stages of marketing, team culture, funding, project management, and viability analysis. Prerequisites: Approval of Program Chair

EPS 480 | Entrepreneur Expo [3 credits]

This advanced seminar is designed to connect Entrepreneurship students with active entrepreneurs to share nuances of this unique role which is transforming business and give advice on breaking into the business. Prerequisites: EPS 120

EPS 484 | Industry Symposium: Casting Directors, Agents & Managers [3 credits]

This course is a workshop of lectures, discussions, Q&As, and practical hands-on training from leading casting directors, agents, and managers in the entertainment industry. From learning how these experts got into the business, to their successes, failures, deals that got away, and advice, students who are aspiring casting directors, agents, and managers will learn real-world professional dos and don'ts that will enhance their knowledge of casting as a career. Each student will make a presentation to one or more mentors during the class for feedback and a grade. Prerequisites: Permission of Program Chair

General Education Courses

GED 101 | Story: Mediums + Genres [3 credits]

This course is designed as an introduction to the power of storytelling, as an initiation into the timeless depths of story, and as an immersive opportunity to develop fluency in the languages of pattern and form. Languages of story—such as image, character and narrative—are shared by waking life, dream, and all varieties of literary, visual, and performing arts. In this course, students study the depths of symbolic imagery, archetypal character, and mythic narratives while engaging with the interplay of artistic creation, dream, memory, and waking consciousness. To this end, students are immersed in an unbounded survey of stories extending from early cave paintings to narrative mediums of the contemporary world. On the first level, this means a close study of natural cycles—from those of celestial bodies like the sun, moon, and earth to those of the mortal realm, such as plants, animals and humans. On the second level, this means a study of mythic narratives informed by natural cycles and imagery. On the third level, this means an exploration into the contemporary application of symbolic imagery, archetypal characters, and narrative structures that find roots in natural cycles informing our biology and mythic memories that inform our culture. Prerequisites: None
Corequisites: ACT, CDN, MTH, FDC, EPS, ART 159

GED 102 | American Cinema [3 credits]

This course surveys 20th-Century American culture through the lens of American cinema. These films will be analyzed as portraits of the relationship between American national identity and industrialized mass culture. Filmmakers respond to what they see in the world; audiences, consciously or unconsciously, assimilate and imitate what they see on their screens. Students will be encouraged to respond creatively to the subject matter, engaging film history as a dynamic source of personal inspiration. Prerequisites: None

GED 206 | Oral Communication [3 credits]

This course aims to equip students to develop, understand, and utilize strong oral communication skills within their chosen profession. Students will develop confidence through class activities and assignments designed to give them practice in a wide range of professional situations where oral communication is required. Topics include public speaking, interviewing, virtual conferencing, pitching, and professional presentations. Prerequisites: None

GED 201 | Anthropology [3 credits]

Anthropology is a cross-cultural, comparative science that explores what it means to be a human being, both today and in the past. In the U.S., it has traditionally had four distinctive, although interrelated sub-fields: archaeology, linguistics, biological anthropology, and socio-cultural anthropology. Through different pathways and methods, each of these sub-fields aims to understand and interpret human behavior, as well as the politics and poetics of representing others. This course introduces the basic tenets of anthropology, and as such, it is designed to help students think and engage with the world more critically. The course is designed with the performing artist in mind, and through readings, lectures, films, discussions, and projects we explore what it means to both “think anthropologically” and “do anthropology,” while considering how artists can incorporate this unique perspective into your future work. Prerequisites: None

GED 111 | Writing Process [3 credits]

In this course, students develop strategies for using writing to explore, interpret, and communicate information about themselves and their lives; use writing as a tool to learn and to discover; develop critical reading strategies; develop a sense of purpose and audience; develop their ability to reduce sentence-level errors in their writing; and increase their ability to use writing to accomplish their own goals in the college and society. Students learn how to use rhetorical strategies to demonstrate their authority to write on a subject matter, to phrase ideas, to support ideas with evidence, and to appeal to a certain audience. Instructors emphasize critical reading skills and critical thinking. Students learn how to approach a text critically by questioning its premises while examining its premises. Instructors teach primarily nonfiction works to serve as models and topics for discussion. A primary goal of instructors is to instill a sense of competence and confidence in students. Students are encouraged for success in writing to learn activities. They have the opportunity to revise their work through the refining of their thinking through the peer review, the proof reading and the editing processes.

Prerequisites: None

GED 204 | Introduction to Statistical Analysis [3 credits]

This course introduces students to the basic concepts and logic of statistical reasoning. Students will choose, generate, and properly interpret appropriate descriptive and inferential methods. In addition, the course helps students gain an appreciation for the diverse applications of statistics and its relevance in areas like social media, online marketing, and content distribution. Prerequisites: None

GED 207 | Physics [3 credits]

Physics tells us the fundamental story of the universe, which extends its root into nothingness and blossoms everywhere around us. Grounding your knowledge in physics and an understanding of the universe provides a context to the images and stories rising from the human imagination, which may help artists to participate more consciously in their creative processes, possibly contributing to the emergence of a modern myth. In this course, many stories of scientific discoveries are counted in a non-technical way in order to describe the different phases of the scientific process. Scientific discovery, like myth, has a historical dimension which depends on the social context where it appeared. By learning about the history of the main paradigms in physics, from the philosophical conceptions of the Greeks to modern quantum mechanics, your vision opens to the paradoxes and wonders of the universe which, at times, seem to defy reason. This course is designed to connect you to this uncertain level of knowledge where creation materializes. Prerequisites: None

GED 202 | Sustainability and the Environment [3 credits]

In this course, students explore impacts of their actions and choices on the environment as they examine the strategies necessary to endure in the face of global change. By studying industry best practices in green production, students increase their own environmental awareness, become effective communicators of the benefits of sustainability, and leverage their skills in storytelling to lead with a spirit of fearless accountability, not just for their own footprint on the planet, but the collective footprint they make as part of the human family. Prerequisites: None

GED 203 | Psychology [3 credits]

This course introduces students to the study of mental processes and behavior. The following psychology topics are explored: methodology, physiology, sensation, perception, states of consciousness, learning, memory, intelligence, imagination, thought, language, development, motivation, emotion, sexuality, health, stress, personality, abnormal disorders, and therapies.

Special emphasis is placed on addressing the psychological challenges faced as an artist or entrepreneur. Prerequisites: None

GED 205 | Philosophy [3 credits]

The purpose of this course is to develop students' ability to analyze and critique beliefs. Through a survey of major debates and figures from the history of philosophy, students will learn to recognize the strengths and weaknesses of their own views. Prerequisites: None

GED 180 | Creative Practice [1 credit]

This course is designed to introduce students life in Los Angeles as an artist and as a Hussian College student, and to create community within their cohort. Students are introduced to Hussian College core values—collaboration, entrepreneurship, mastery and goal-setting. Students consider and discuss the challenges they will face and the skills necessary to navigate and integrate their education and personal life. Students will practice critical thinking in order to face challenges with confidence and clarity. Students define, refine, and align their own life goals, and map the skills needed to reach and exceed these goals. Prerequisites: None

ART 140 | Art History: Art of the Western World II [3 credits]

Through lectures and discussion, students survey the major developments in the history of art, from the Renaissance to the Post-Modern period, to gain an understanding and appreciation of historical periods, styles, techniques, subjects, and symbolism. Students also develop an awareness of appropriate vocabulary and terminology that describe these characteristics, and they learn to consider how art of every period relates to the relevant culture. Prerequisites: None

Collaboration Lab Courses

LAB 190 | Collaboration Fundamentals [1 credit]

This experiential, process-based course introduces students to the fundamentals of collaboration and group creative work. creative problem solving, design-mind thinking, improvisation, serious play, thinking styles, team building, project management, team accountability, and the Hussian College Collab Lab development model will all be addressed. Prerequisites: None

LAB 191 | Studio Fundamentals [1 credit]

This hands-on course is designed to familiarize students with the complete production workflow at Hussian College, including workshops on software, equipment, basic cinematic language, and filmmaking techniques. It is also intended to initiate students into Hussian College's team-focused culture of professionalism and accountability. Prerequisites: None

LAB 192 | Collaboration Lab [1 credit]

This project-based course marries skills learned in LAB 190 and LAB 191 to create pitch videos and proposals for projects that will go on to compete for production support in later collab labs and innovation initiatives. Prerequisites: LAB 191, LAB 191

LAB 290 | Studio Team [1 credit]

This is a project-based learning pathway course in which students build collaboration and production or performance experience working as a cast or crew member on a student-driven collaborative project or innovation initiative. May be repeated for credit. Prerequisites: LAB 192 or permission of Program Chair and Dean of Academic Affairs.

LAB 390 | Creative Lab [1 credit]

In this project-development focused learning pathway course, students gain further tools and techniques for collaborating to develop original content as a lead creative: director, writer, designer, choreographer, etc. Tools and techniques covered will include ideation, development, brainstorming, improvisation, and revision. Students are encouraged to use this class to workshop project pitches for LAB 490. May be repeated for credit. Prerequisites: LAB 192

LAB 391 | Producer Lab [1 credit]

Students in this project development focused learning pathway course gain mastery of collaboration, production and leadership skills to lead creative teams starting with the collaborative development process through to a completed project or product. Tools and techniques covered will include budgeting, scheduling, leadership, workflow, organization and pitching. Students are encouraged to use this class to workshop project pitches for LAB 490. May be repeated for credit. Prerequisites: LAB 390

LAB 490 | Production Studio [1 credit]

This is a project implementation focused learning pathway course in which mentor-supported, student-led teams produce original content, create a new performance experience, launch a new enterprise or implement an innovation. The goal of the course is to empower students to fulfill their goals as content creators, entrepreneurs, and change agents both within Hussian College and beyond. Some projects may qualify for production support and Studio Sidecar Productions partnership. Course is offered on an elective basis and may be repeated for credit. In addition to completing all course prerequisites, students must prepare a project pitch and have it accepted in order to be admitted to the course. Prerequisites: LAB 390, LAB 391

Graduate Course Descriptions

UX Design Courses

HUX 500 | UX Design [3 credits]

UX, also called Experience Design, has become an important tool for designers creating products and services. This course provides an introduction and overview to the core principles of UX. It considers the evolution of UX theory from Human-Computer Interface (HCI) and Design Thinking and introduces the modern UX workflow for user-centric design. It considers the role of empathy in UX and illustrates how UX process is essential to create humane, functional and useful products. In this course, students will learn the theory and practice of UX. They will apply their understanding of UX process to propose a site, product, or service solving a user problem. Websites and apps will be important, but students will also explore how UX is used to design products, Internet of Things (IoT) devices, and Immersive (VR, AR) systems. Work in the course includes research into the history of UX, and the application of UX in organizations. Students will develop an original product or service concept via research, user models, empathy, problem statements, ideation, prototyping and testing.

HUX 510 | Design Foundation I [3 credits]

This course explores the role of visual design and addresses the creative process of visual communication and message-making via formal graphic design principles. It provides a foundation for understanding how information design, user interface design and human-centered design relate to aesthetics and visual design. During this course, students will be introduced to visual design theory, anchored in the Universal Principles of Design popularized by Craig and Scala. They will learn how graphic designers solve design problems, and craft their own original, visual designs via ideation and refinement. Students will work in both physical and digital media, while documenting their process for discussion and critique. Coursework includes an introduction to the theory and history of visual design, along with universal design principles - the role of form, space, image, gestalt, typography, and composition in creative work. Through tutorials, students will develop their technical skills until they can craft visual solutions for products, services, and advertising. They will learn professional practice, and create communication deliverables documenting their process. They will present their completed visual designs for comments and critique.

HUX 520 | Organizations, Business and Design Thinking [3 credits]

Organizational Behavior is the study of individual, group, and system-wide influences on behavior in work settings. This course introduces students to the field of organizational behavior and explores techniques for applying design thinking to within an organization. Traditionally, design referred to visual art, but its definition has steadily advanced to include products, and more recently the ways that people interact with organizations and their services. Course topics include an introduction to design thinking and organizational theory. Emphasis will be placed on creating UX teams implementing design thinking in an organization, applying UX strategy to develop web and mobile-based information systems for the organization. Students will also learn how UX design and system theory improves organizational effectiveness. They will also explore the connections between UX design and Information Technology (IT). Coursework includes a survey of the organizational behavior, along with the informational systems used to organize information in the workplace. Students will learn how software, individuals, job roles, groups, and management define the behavior of business. Students will use the results of their psychology and ethnographic research to propose changes to informational systems which improve user experience and workplace collaboration. They will strategies for creating strong design teams that act as "UX ambassadors" while satisfying corporate stakeholders.

HUX 530 | UX Design Tools [3 credits]

This course explores the design of User Interfaces using professional UX Design software. Students learn the basics of Human-Computer Interface (HCI), and use professional UX Design tools to integrate UX and UI. They will also explore standard 2D UI, and experiment with emerging, non-visual UI these tools enable within prototypes, including sensors, touch, audio, video, 3D and Immersive design (VR, AR). Students will begin by developing common UI deliverables - integrating layout, color user controls and typography into 2D UI. As their skill improves, they will use these tools to create integrated UI within UX Prototypes. They will learn how to add motion graphic "microinteractions", and experiment with integrating voice interactions, smartphone sensors, and immersive media (VR, AR) into prototypes. The testing features of UX Design tools (A/B tests for different UI) will also be explored. Finally, students will document their UI concepts within formal "Design Systems" which standardize identity and branding throughout the organization. Coursework will include practice designing UI elements, design system development, and training in industry standard UX design tools. Work also include the production of interactive prototypes, and testing using UX tool analytics.

HUX 540 | User Research [3 credits]

The core of UX is integrating human needs into the design process. and design research is primary method for informing our designs from the perspective of the end user This course focuses on UX methodology used to discover user needs, and their development into actionable user models. The results of research are converted to user models. Examination of these models helps the designer build empathy for their users through cores principles of Immerse, Engage, or Observe. In this course students will learn the various kinds of user research: qualitative versus quantitative, formative versus summative. They will learn to ask the right research question, and choose appropriate research strategies to answer that question. They will learn to analyze data and construct user models. Most importantly, they will learn how to use user data to develop empathy. Work done by students includes qualitative video interviews, card-sorts and ethnographic studies. Testing technology may include recorded interviews, eye-tracking, and task completion software. Special topics such as remote testing, building usability labs, and competitive testing will be discussed based on participant interest. Analysis of qualitative and quantitative test results will also be considered. Students will also learn how to conduct research into the needs of the client, and research competitors.

HUX 550 | Human Factors and Usability Testing [3 credits]

Interaction Design (ID) is the design of the interaction between users and the products and services they use. It is a key component of designing the User Experience for products, services, and advertising - it documents the nuts and bolts of moment-by-moment interaction between the user and the designed system. In this course, students will use Interaction Design theory to develop websites, apps, and advanced systems incorporating vision, touch, voice and gesture, and intelligent agents. The course begins with a study of human senses and cognition - how does human psychology affect how people interact with designed objects? These theories are applied to develop user scenarios, interaction flowcharts, and prototypes. The course also introduces methodologies for testing prototypes for usability and accessibility. Coursework will focus on understanding the capabilities and limitations of users as defined by Human-Computer Interface (HCI) and Human Factors (HF). The conversion of user journeys to industry interaction diagrams will form a major part of the course. These deliverables will be used to develop and test advanced prototypes using video recordings, eye-tracking, heatmaps, and analytics. Special topics will also be considered, including remote testing, building usability labs, and competitive product testing.

HUX 640 | UX Coding Tools [3 credits]

This course introduces the role of programming in UX as "design by other means". The goal is to help UX designers understand how prototype applications are translated to final code. Topics include the theory of computer programming, the differences between authoring and coding, and training in the most common programming languages to code interactive websites and apps. Students will begin learning the basic principles of computer programming - how does code translate to visual design, user interface and activity? They will build basic app and learn how complex systems require "design patterns". They will explore how Object-Oriented Programming (OOP) makes coded systems functional, modular, and sustainable within the larger development workflow. Work performed in the course will include training in specific programming languages including HTML5, CSS3, JavaScript, Ajax, PHP, and work with 'hybrid' Content Management (CMS) systems which mix coding and authoring for interaction.

HUX 650 | Human-Computer Interaction and Cognitive Psychology Research [3 credits]

This course digs deeper into the cognitive science of Human-Computer Interactions (HCI) and explores the biological, behavioral, perceptual, cognitive and social issues relevant to human computer interactions. HCI research is helping to define next-generation interfaces for "wearables" like fitness trackers, Internet of Things (IoT) devices, and Immersive Media including VR and AR. Practitioners conduct research to better define how hardware and software can be blended into interfaces tailored to the unique features of human cognition. Students will study the insights of cognitive psychology and learn how research into human-computer interactions can improve products and services. They will also consider accessibility and learn to design for inclusion of people with different physical and mental, and cultural identities. Finally, they will explore the "dark side" of HCI - how people can be tricked by "dark patterns" into unwanted actions and behavior, and the growing role of HCI in secure data and user interaction. Work in the course includes research into human cognition, proposing a HCI research problem, conducting empirical research and reporting the results.

HUX 660 | Project and Process Management [3 credits]

Design projects are limited by time and resources, and effective management of design teams is a necessary skill for UX practitioners. This course introduces the tools and techniques of Project Management (PM) that designers can use to enhance the usability of their products and services. In the UX field, traditional waterfall techniques have been replaced by newer models like agile, lean and rapid design, and remote teams. Students will learn how modern PM is applied in the workplace and explore the role of team leadership in pushing projects forward. During the course, students will conduct research, and organize teams via different project management strategies. They also learn to work as part of a project team, manage UX projects, and compute the effectiveness of a design or redesign in terms of business goals. Students also learn about the business of design, including networking, marketing, budgeting, client and stakeholder relations, and business communications. Coursework may include the creation of strategic plans, team design, setting project scope, and practical management techniques juggling time, cost, and quality within constraints. Students also explore methods for improving teamwork, risk management, and reducing "pain points" in team collaboration. They will compute metrics, Key Performance Indicators (KPIs) that define a Return on Investment (ROI). Finally, they will learn effective leadership strategy for achieving project goals.

HUX 670 | Mobile App Development [3 credits]

This course focuses on the features of UX design for mobile devices - smartphones, wearables, and Internet of Things (IoT) devices. In the near future, mobile interaction will replace desktop apps, and understanding the features of mobile design are necessary to ensure cross-platform user experience. During the course, students will study the twin strategies of "mobile first", and "responsive design". These strategies ensure mobile websites apps, and wearables provide equivalent user experiences. Students then explore mechanics of mobile interaction design, including the use of mobile-based sensors (accelerometers, touchscreens, geolocation, sound and cameras) in user experience. They will design, develop and test, mobile prototypes that function effectively across multiple platforms. Students will also study the emerging field of Conversational Design - apps which communicate by text instead of visual language and leverage artificial intelligence technologies to personalize their interaction. Coursework includes a survey of the unique features of mobile design space, segmentation of mobile audience, and business models activated by mobile use. Students will apply their understanding to creating a cross-platform, responsive mobile concept satisfying business goals and customer needs. They will test advanced prototypes, and review the platforms used to convert UX mobile prototypes into native applications.

HUX 680 | Prototyping [3 credits]

Prototype building is a key feature of modern UX, and this course focuses on the complete process of prototyping. Prototypes are draft versions of a design concept which contain features that may be tested to validate the user problem and proposed design solutions. Telling the user story, then translating that story into a viable prototype, has been called the key "Unicorn Skill" increasingly required by employers. A prototype can be used to sell a business concept, create a shared vision, test an interface, or provide the development team with a detailed guide to coding. This course treats UX design prototypes as the realization of the user story written as a "conversation" between user and system. Students begin by learning the creative techniques needed to craft great user stories. They move on to master the steps needed to convert a story to an early-stage prototype. UX design has traditionally been visual, that students will develop high-resolution prototypes that are visual, as well as prototypes using text and voice support

Conversational Design. Students conduct testing to validate prototypes and use test results to loop back and rewrite their user stories. Coursework includes learning to write user stories, and translating stories to cross-platform prototypes. Work also includes methods for conducting tests and analyzing analytics derived from prototype testing.

HUX 690 | UX Design Capstone [3 credits]

In this UX capstone course, you will conduct a multi-stage user experience project to design a product from scratch, incorporating design and research methods within the context of iterative user-centered design. You will employ interviews, inspection methods, and user testing, along with ideation, design, and prototyping methods to gain and communicate valuable insight that can be used to deliver a compelling product. You can propose your own product, or you can choose from a list provided by the instructional team. Your final product must reflect user-centric thinking and illustrate the role of empathy in effective UX design. The capstone will be a culmination of how to design and carry out an integrated multi-phase user experience and design project. The course is designed for students to gain experience conducting user experience research in a real-world setting.

Student State Recovery Fund

The State of California established the Student Tuition Recovery Fund (STRF) to relieve or mitigate economic loss suffered by a student in an educational program at a qualifying institution, who is or was a California resident while enrolled, or was enrolled in a residency program, if the student enrolled in the institution, prepaid tuition, and suffered an economic loss. Unless relieved of the obligation to do so, you must pay the state-imposed assessment for the STRF, or it must be paid on your behalf, if you are a student in an educational program, who is a California resident, or are enrolled in a residency program, and prepay all or part of your tuition.

It is important that you keep copies of your enrollment agreement, financial aid documents, receipts, or any other information that documents the amount paid to the school. Questions regarding the STRF may be directed to the Bureau for Private Postsecondary Education, 1747 N. Market Blvd. Ste 225, Sacramento, CA 95834
Or P.O. Box 980818, West Sacramento, CA 95798-0818.

To be eligible for STRF, you must be a California resident or are enrolled in a residency program, prepaid tuition, paid or deemed to have paid the STRF assessment, and suffered an economic loss as a result of any of the following:

1. The institution, a location of the institution, or an educational program offered by the institution was closed or discontinued, and you did not choose to participate in a teach-out plan approved by the Bureau or did not complete a chosen teach-out plan approved by the Bureau.
2. You were enrolled at an institution or a location of the institution within the 120 day period before the closure of the institution or location of the institution, or were enrolled in an educational program within the 120 day period before the program was discontinued.

3. You were enrolled at an institution or a location of the institution more than 120 days before the closure of the institution or location of the institution, in an educational program offered by the institution as to which the Bureau determined there was a significant decline in the quality of value of the program more than 120 days before closure.
4. The institution has been ordered to pay a refund by the Bureau but has failed to do so.
5. The institution has failed to pay or reimburse loan proceeds under a federal student loan program as required by law, or has failed to pay or reimburse proceeds received by the institution in excess of tuition and other costs.
6. You have been awarded restitution, a refund, or other monetary award by an arbitrator or court, based on a violation of this chapter by an institution or representative of an institution, but have been unable to collect the award from the institution.
7. You sought legal counsel that resulted in the cancellation of one or more of your student loans and have an invoice for services rendered and evidence of the cancellation of the student loan or loans.

To qualify for STRF reimbursement, the application must be received within four (4) years from the date of the action or event that made the student eligible for recovery from STRF.

A student whose loan is revived by a loan holder or debt collector after a period of noncollection may, at any time, file a written application for recovery from the STRF for the debt that would have otherwise been eligible for recovery. If it has been more than four (4) years since the action or event that made the student eligible, the student must have filed a written application for recovery within the original four (4) year period, unless the period has been extended by another act of law. However, no claim can be paid to any student without a social security number or a taxpayer identification number.

Catalog/Performance Fact Sheet Review

As a prospective student, you are encouraged to review this catalog prior to signing an enrollment agreement. You are also encouraged to review the School Performance Fact Sheet, which must be provided to you prior to signing an enrollment agreement.

BPPE Catalog Notification

Any questions a student may have regarding this catalog that have not be satisfactorily answered by the institution may be directed to the Bureau of Private Postsecondary Education at:

Notice Concerning Transferability of Credits and Credentials Earned at Our Institution

The transferability of credits you earn at Hussian College is at the complete discretion of an institution to which you may seek to transfer. Acceptance of the BA, BFA, or MS you earn in the educational program is also at the complete discretion of the institution to which you may seek to transfer. If the BA, BFA or MS that you earn at this institution is not accepted at the institution to which you seek to transfer, you may be required to repeat some or all of your coursework at that institution. For this reason, you should make certain that your attendance at this institution will meet your educational goals. This may include contacting an institution to which you may seek to transfer after attending Hussian College to determine if your BA, BFA, or MS will transfer.

Solvency

Hussian College does not now, nor has it ever, had a pending petition for bankruptcy, operated as a debtor in possession, filed a petition, or had a bankruptcy petition filed against it resulting in reorganization under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code.

Annual FERPA (Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act) Notice

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended (the “Act”), is a federal law which requires that Hussian College (a) establish a written institutional policy setting forth the rights granted by the Act, and (b) make available a statement of procedures covering such rights. The College shall maintain the confidentiality of Education Records in accordance with the provisions of the Act and shall accord all the rights under the Act to eligible students who are or have been in attendance at the College.

Persons Protected

The rights of privacy provided herein are accorded to all students who are or have been in attendance at the College. The rights do not extend to persons who have never been admitted to the College. A student who has been in attendance at one component of the school does not acquire rights with respect to another component of the College to which the student has not been admitted. A “component” is an organizational unit, which has separately administered admissions and matriculation policies and separately maintains and administers Education Records.

Rights of Inspection

The Act provides students with the right to inspect and review information contained in their Education Records, to challenge the contents of those Records which students consider to be inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of their privacy or other rights, to have a hearing if the outcome of the challenge is unsatisfactory, and to submit explanatory statements for inclusion in their Education Records if the decision of a hearing officer or panel is unacceptable. The Registrar of Hussian College has been assigned the responsibility to coordinate the inspection and review procedures for Education Records.

Education Records: Definition

The term “Education Records” encompasses all recorded information, regardless of medium, which is directly related to a student and which is maintained by the College. Education Records include, but are not limited to, admissions, personal, academic, certain personnel, financial aid, cooperative education, and placement records, and may also include appropriate information concerning disciplinary action taken against the student for conduct that posed a significant risk to the safety or well-being of that student, other students, or other members of the school community. The term “Education Records” does not include the following:

1. Records of instructional, supervisory, and administrative personnel, and ancillary educational personnel that are in the sole possession of the maker and are not accessible or revealed to any other individual except a substitute who may temporarily perform the duties of the maker;

2. Records of a law enforcement unit of the school, which are maintained separate from Education Records, are maintained solely for law enforcement purposes, and are not disclosed to individuals other than law enforcement officers of the same jurisdiction, provided that Education Records of the school may not be disclosed to the law enforcement unit;
3. Records relating to individuals who are employed by the school that are made and maintained in the normal course of business, relate exclusively to individuals in their capacity as employees and are not available for another purpose. Note: Employment records of persons who are employed solely as a consequence of school attendance, e.g., teaching/graduate assistants, workstudy students, student interns, are Education Records.
4. Records created and maintained by a physician, psychiatrist, psychologist, or other recognized professional or paraprofessional, acting or assisting in a professional capacity, such as student health records, to be used solely in connection with the provision of treatment to the student and not disclosed to anyone other than for treatment purposes, provided that records may be disclosed to a physician or professional of the students' choice. Note: Treatment in this context does not include remedial education activities or other activities, which are part of the program of instruction at the school.
5. Records of an institution which contain only information relating to a person after that person is no longer a student at the institution; e.g., accomplishments of alumni.

Request for Review

Students who desire to review their Education Records must present a written request to the Registrar, listing the item or items to be reviewed. Only those Education Records subject to inspection under this policy will be available for review. The items requested which are subject to review shall be made available for review no later than 45 calendar days following receipt of a written request. Students have the right to a copy of an Education Record which is subject to review when failure to provide a copy of the Record would effectively prevent the student from inspecting and reviewing the Education Record, as determined in the reasonable discretion of the College. A copy of an Education Record otherwise subject to review may be refused if a "hold" for nonpayment of financial obligations exists. Copies shall be made at the student's expense. The fee for making copies of an Education Record is $1 per page and must be paid at the time copies are requested.

Limitations on Student Rights

There are some limitations on the rights to inspect Education Records. Students shall have no right of inspection or review of:

1. Financial information submitted by their parents;
2. Education Records containing information about more than one student. In such a case the school will permit access only to that part of the Education Record pertaining to the inquiring student.

Waiver of Student Rights

A student may waive any or all of his/her rights under this Policy. The College does not require waivers and no institutional service or benefit shall be denied a student who fails to supply a waiver. All waivers must be in writing and signed by the student. A student may waive his/her rights to inspect and review either individual documents (e.g., a letter of recommendation) or classes of documents (e.g., an admissions file). The items or documents to which a student has waived his/ her right of access shall be used only for the purpose for which they were collected. If used for other purposes, the waiver shall be void and the documents may be inspected by the student. A student may revoke a waiver in writing, but by revoking it, the student does not regain the right to inspect and review documents collected while the waiver was validly in force.

Consent Provisions

No person outside of the school shall have access to, nor shall the school disclose any personally identifiable information from a student's Education Records without the written consent of the student. The consent must specify the Education Records to be disclosed, the purpose of the disclosure, the party or class of parties to whom disclosure may be made and must be signed and dated by the student. A copy of the Education Record disclosed or to be disclosed shall be provided to the student upon request.

There are exceptions to this consent requirement. The school reserves the right, as permitted by law, to disclose Education Records or components thereof without written consent to:

1. "school officials" who have a "legitimate educational interest." "school officials" shall mean any person employed by the College in an administrative, supervisory, academic, or support staff position; officer of the College or a member of the Board of Directors; or, person or entity employed by or under contract with the College to perform a special task (e.g. attorney, auditor, or collection agent). "Legitimate educational interest" shall mean any authorized interest, or activity undertaken in the name of the school for which access to an Education Record is necessary or appropriate to the proper performance of the undertaking, and shall include, without limitation: performing a task that is specified in or inherent to any school official's position description or contract; performing a task related to a student's education; performing a task related to the discipline of a student; providing a service or benefit relating to the student or student's family, such as health care, counseling, job placement or financial aid; and maintaining the safety and security of the Hussian College campus and facilities.
2. Officials of other educational agencies or institutions in which a student seeks to enroll.
3. Officials of other educational agencies or institutions in which the student is currently enrolled.
4. Persons or organizations providing student financial aid in order to determine the amount, eligibility, conditions of award, and to enforce the terms of the award.
5. Accrediting organizations carrying out their accrediting functions.

6. Authorized representatives of the Comptroller General of the United States, the Secretary of the U.S. Department of Education, and state or local educational authorities, only if the information is necessary for audit and evaluation of federal, state, or locally supported programs and only if such agencies or authorities have a policy for protecting information received from redisclosure and for destroying such information when it is no longer needed for such purposes (unless access is authorized by federal law or student consent).
7. State or local officials to whom disclosure is required by state statute adopted prior to November 19, 1974.
8. Organizations conducting studies for or on behalf of educational agencies or institutions to develop, validate, and administer predictive tests, to administer student aid programs, or to improve instruction, so long as there is no further external disclosure of personally identifiable information and the information is destroyed when no longer necessary for the projects.
9. Persons in order to comply with a judicial order or a lawfully issued subpoena, provided a reasonable effort is made to notify the student in advance of compliance.
10. Appropriate persons in a health or safety emergency if the information is necessary to protect the health or safety of the student or other individuals.
11. An alleged victim of any crime of violence (as that term is defined in section 16 of title 18, United States Code), but only the results of any disciplinary proceeding conducted by the school against the alleged perpetrator of such crime with respect to such crime.
12. With respect to appropriate information concerning disciplinary action taken against a student for conduct that posed a significant risk to the safety or well-being of that student, other students, or other members of the school community, to teachers and school officials within the agency or institution who the agency or institution has determined have legitimate educational interests in the behavior of the student or to teachers and school officials in other colleges who have been determined to have legitimate educational interests in the behavior of the student.
13. To the Attorney General of the United States or his designee in response to an ex parte order, based on "specific and articulable facts" that the education records sought are relevant, in connection with the investigation or prosecution or terrorist crimes.

With respect to items 2. and 3., above, the student shall be entitled to receive a copy of any disclosed Education Record upon request.

Institutional Record of Disclosure

The school shall keep a written record of all Education Record disclosures and the student shall have the right to inspect such record. The record shall include the names of parties or agencies to whom disclosure is made, the legitimate reason for the disclosure, and the date of the disclosure. No record of disclosure shall be required for those disclosures made to a student for his/her own use, disclosures made with the written consent of a student, disclosures made to a "school official" with a "legitimate educational interest,” disclosures of “Directory Information,” for disclosures to persons or parties identified in the section entitled “Consent Provisions,” item 6, for purposes of auditing the school’s record keeping practices, or disclosures made to federal law enforcement officials in connection with a terrorist investigation.

Records of disclosure prepared pursuant to this section or the following section shall be subject to review only by the student, the custodian and his/her/its staff, “school officials” as defined in the section titled “Consent Provisions,” item 1, and federal, state, or local government officials conducting audits of compliance by the school with the Act.

Re-Disclosure of Student Records

Any disclosure of Education Records authorized under this Policy (whether with or without student consent) shall be made on the conditions that the recipient shall not re-disclose the Education Records without consent or authorization as required herein and shall not permit or condone any unauthorized use. Authorization for re-disclosure, without consent, for purposes and to persons and parties permitted by law, may be given to a person or party designated in the section titled “Consent Provisions,” above, provided, such authorization must include a record of:

The name of the person or party to whom redisclosures can be made; and

The legitimate interests which the additional person or party has for receiving the information and the purposes for which it may be used.

Such re-disclosures must be on the conditions set forth in the first paragraph of this section.

Disclosure of Disciplinary Proceedings to Alleged Victims of Crimes of Violence and Non-Forcible Sex Offenses

The College will, upon written request, disclose to the alleged victim of a crime of violence, or a non-forcible sex offense, the results of any disciplinary hearing conducted by the College against the student who is the alleged perpetrator of the crime or offense. If the alleged victim is deceased as a result of the crime or offense, the College will provide the results of the disciplinary hearing to the victim’s next of kin, if so requested.

Directory Information

In its discretion, the College may disclose, publish, or provide Directory Information concerning a student without consent or a record of disclosure. Directory Information shall include: a student’s name, address, telephone number, email address, dates of attendance, degrees and awards received, the most recent previous educational agency or institution attended by the student, and school level. An individual student currently enrolled may request that such Directory Information not be disclosed by completing a nondisclosure form available in and deliverable to the Registrar’s Office. Prior to receipt by the Registrar’s Office of a nondisclosure form, a student’s directory information may be disclosed. All written requests for nondisclosure will be honored by the school for only one (1) academic year; therefore, authorization to withhold Directory Information must be filed annually. Alumni may request non-disclosure of Directory Information concerning them at any time. Such request will be honored continuously.

Employment Rate Methodology

Hussian College, Inc. calculates an Employment Rate for each program using a formula specified by its institutional accreditor, the Accrediting Commission for Career Schools and Colleges (ACCSC). The employment rate formula uses a cohort of students who began school during a 12-month reporting period specified by ACCSC, as the denominator. The reporting period is dependent upon the length of the program. Graduates are considered “unavailable for employment” and excluded from the cohort for the following reasons: further education at an accredited institution of higher education (postsecondary) on at least a half-time basis, death, incarceration, active military service deployment, the onset of a medical condition that prevents employment, or international students who have returned to their country of origin. The numerator is comprised of graduates in the cohort who obtained employment in their field of training, or a related field, which was verified by the school. The rate is calculated for the cohort based on program length in months and allow for student to complete the program within 1.5 times of the program length plus 3 months to obtain employment.
